Twentieth Annual Reunion Brings Out Largest Crowd Since Before World War—Awards Are Made To Oldest Persons, Longest Married, Etc.—Grand March Is Real Feature.

By ED. FRITZ

Age and gray hair, bent shoulders, dim-seeing eyes and wrinkles were the badges of honor Wednesday when thousands of Old-Timers gamboled in ecstacy at the twentieth annual reunion of Lawrence county's pioneers, held at Cascade Park.

They came from the sunny coast of California, rugged sections of Oklahoma, the fields of Porto Rico, beautiful Florida, friendly Canada, to further concrete the friendships they had formed when Margaret was plain "Maggie" and James was called "Jim."

And, as the Old Timers the persons who have shaped the destiny of Lawrence county gathered in different sections of the park, there were tears of rapture an abandonment of care and once again, the spirit conquered the flesh.

After roaming like they did in the days when East Washington street was a cow-path, the Old Timers bid each other "good-bye until we meet again" and as darkness fell they wended their way from the park—perhaps never to meet until the last Grand March.

Grand March.

At 2 o'clock the Rainbow Terrace was crowded with Old Timers who have passed the age of 65 and when the Palace Entertainers "struck up" the music the beautiful pageant was led by Harvey E. McGoun and his daughter, Mrs. Fannie Gormley.

As the "boys and girls" marched to the call of "Col." Dan Mooney they were aided by Ralph M. Campbell, marshal and those who did not see the spectacle will be unable to comprehend what a delightful sight it was.

As, sixteen abreast the marchers, some with canes, others supported by more rugged companions stepped as sprightly as possible along the floor, a wave of applause shook the building and tears of pride came from the eyes of the younger generation, present outside the barrier, to do honor to the Old Timers.

After the Grand March the Old Timers participated in quadrilles and one could readily see that while the

Funeral Services For Nation's Great Industrial Leader Conducted Today.

BURY REMAINS AT WHEATON MAUSOLEUM

Two Thousand Attend Service In Little Gary Memorial Church.

(International News Service)

WHEATON, Ill., Aug. 18.—Beneath a cloud-flecked sky, out in the country-side where he played and roamed as a boy, the body of the nation's greatest industrial leader, Judge Elbert H. Gary, was laid to rest here today.

As the great bronze-grated doors of the family mausoleum were closed behind him, farmer-boys and bankers, country store clerks and masters of world industries stood by with uncovered heads as a last tribute to the boy who became master of millions of dollars and millions of men as head of the U. S. Steel Corporation.

In the little Gary Memorial church, erected twenty years ago by the late Judge Gary, 2,000 persons witnessed the simple ceremonies.

Many Pay Homage

WHEATON, Ill., Aug. 18.—Masters of millions gathered here today to render homage at the bier of Elbert Henry Gary, the lowly farmer's boy who rose to be the master of them all.

Simply he was born, simply he was reared, simply he lived and simply he was to be buried today. Whatever the pomp and circumstance and magnificence of today's rites, they were most truly magnificent in their very simplicity.

It was not Judge Gary, the "steel

Flying School Marm Is Among Those Missing

Two Of Four Planes In Pacific Air Derby Not Heard From.

MANY VESSELS JOIN IN SEARCH

All Agencies Cooperating In Effort To Locate Missing Fliers.

By THOMAS R. CURRAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—With nearly twenty commercial steamers plying through the Pacific between California and Hawaii, all coast shipping agencies threw their full resources today into the search for the five Dole fliers believed to be adrift at sea.

Two of the four planes that left California in the $35,000 race to Honolulu have landed at that place, the race being won by Art Goebel in the Woolaroc, in a little over 26 hours. Second to land was the Aloha piloted by Martin Jansen. Neither knew anything of the two missing planes.

Powerful radio agencies on shore constantly queried the ships at sea, urging unflagging watchfulness for the "Miss Doran," and the "Golden Eagle," and seeking to discover some trace of the Hawaiian air derby racers.

Many Naval Vessels In Search

The commercial vessels augment a squadron of naval destroyers which already are making an intensive search over the great circle course to Honolulu.

The missing fliers are Miss Mildred Doran, 22-year-old "Flying Schoolmarm," in the biplane flown by Auggy Pedlar and navigated by V. R. Knope, and Jack Frost and Gordon Scott, the crew of the Hearst Golden Eagle monoplane.

Along the line of flight are the following vessels: The Eric Frisell, The Manulani, The President Harrison, The Manukai, the Mana, and seven navy destroyers. South of the course are the Pulpit Point, The Esther Dollar, The W. S. Miller, The City of Los Angeles, and The City of Honolulu. Northward, the Mahukona and Lurline, converging on Honolulu, and therefore rapidly nearing the zone in which the fliers may be found.

Planes Join Search

Rushing Northward along the coast and heading for the Farallones to take up the search westward are two airplane carriers. The Langley and the Aroostook. The two vessels carry ten planes aboard which will launch out over the sea.

Ten army planes from Crissey field, on the San Francisco Presidio, will hop off to fly as far as possible over the Honolulu course. The fact that both the Miss Doran and the Golden Eagle were last seen at the Farallon Islands, 30 miles off the golden gate, inspired the hope of the army flyers that their intensive search near shore may bring results. The army planes, it was believed, can safely fly as far as 200 miles off shore without endangering the lives of the flyers.

One of the original Dole racers, Capt. "Bill" Erwin, of Dallas, Tex., who was forced back after the take-off by a rip in his fuselage, also planned today to search for his miss-

Step Is Quite Feeble, But Spirit Is There As 18 Veterans March

Survivors Of Union Army Have Reunion Wednesday At Cascade.

Belligerently Refuse To Abandon Idea Of Future Annual Reunions.

Three drums boomed and three fifes shrieked "Marching Through Georgia" as 18 veterans of the Civil war tottered down the Midway to the bandstand, where they were to hold their 16th annual meeting in connection with the Old Timers' picnic at Cascade park Wednesday.

Eighteen veterans marched down the Midway. But they did not swing along with the same strides as they used when they were called away from home to quell the rebellion. Only three were unencumbered. One used both a crutch and a cane and all of the rest had to depend upon canes.

To Meet Again.

Chief among the questions which they met to discuss was this: Will we meet at this place next year to hold our annual meeting, or will we disband?

As one of the men put it: "It is past out day to be active in anything. Nows our eyes are so dim that we cannot read the minutes of the last meeting. I hate to see the association die, but we are too old."

But with another member of the Lawrence County Veterans association, this raised fire. "No," he said. "As long as there are two of us to meet, we ought to meet if able." And that settled things. Next year the meeting will be held, at the same time and at the same place.

"Surely," one said, 'there will be enough of us left next year to hold the meeting."

The report of the quartermaster came next. But, he said, there was little to report, and his job did not

BYERS KNOWS LOST FLIERS

New Castle Youth Is Friend Of Miss Doran And Pedlar.

Among those anxious over the disappearance of the "Miss Doran," one of the entrants in the Dole race to Honolulu, is Ralph N. Byers, of Flint, Mich., who is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Byers of East street.

Byers is a personal friend of both Miss Mildred Doran, for whom the plane was named, and J. A. "Auggie" Pedler, the pair making the flight. They are both well known in Flint, where Pedler has been a commercial aviator for the past two years.

An interesting anecdote is told by Byers, who is with the Flint Journal, regarding the flight made by Pedlar and Miss Doran. The Flint plane's flight was sponsored by a Flint business man who persuaded Miss Doran, a Flint school teacher, to be a passenger.

When he decided to finance the attempt, there were two Flint pilots eligible and both wanted the job. The only fair way seemed to be the toss of a coin. So the day the trip was announced, Pedler and his partner stood about the desk of the city editor of the Flint Journal while a coin was spun in the air, "Auggie" called it and won the trip.

WOMEN PLAN CLUB HOUSE

Federated Clubs Will Go Ahead With Local Project.

LEGAL STEPS ARE NOW UNDER WAY

For years the Federated Woman's Club of New Castle has wanted a house where they could have an auditorium to accommodate their speakers, and how, in accordance with that plan, application for a charter for a corporation to be called "The New Castle Federation of Women's Clubs" has been filed. It is expected that this charter will be granted September 5.

The New Castle Federation of Women's Clubs will include about 20 literary, musical and civic clubs.

The executive committee which applied for the charter includes Mrs. Charles Greer, chairman; Mrs. S. M. Matheny, vice chairman; Miss Mollie Davis, secretary; Mrs. W. H. Pond, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. J. C. Raney, treasurer.

Plan For Project.

The committee plans to get hold of some centrally located property, on which there is space for an auditorium, and there to erect a club house or rebuild the house which is already on the grounds. The ladies are particularly anxious to get a building large enough to accommodate an auditorium where they can hold their meetings and entertainments.

The proposed club house will include an auditorium with a stage, rest rooms, recreation rooms and perhaps some dormitory rooms.

It will be remembered that in the past few years the women's clubs of New Castle have been very active. The community playgrounds were originally the project of the women's clubs, although recently the city council has taken the matter up. Also much work along the line of Americanization has been done in cooperation with the women's clubs. The Music club has been very active, as has also the smaller clubs.

SLIPPERY ROCK GETS $340,000 OF FUNDS OF STATE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 18.—Dr. John A. H. Keith, superintendent of public instruction today anounced allocation of the State Normal school appropriation for the 1927-1929 biennium.

Out of the $4,600,000 given for maintenance, $4,270,000 was distributed. The remainder was reserved for a contingency fund.

In making the allocations Dr. Keith said that the larger schools received a smaller rate than the others because the overhead is less than in those with few students.

Alocations announced were Bloomsburg, $340,000; California, $300,000; Cheyney, $100,000; East Stroudsburg, $340,000; Edinboro, $315,000; Indiana, $540,000; Kutztown, $240,000; Lock Haven, $245,000; Mansfield, $340,000; Millersville, $260,000; Shippensburg, $305,000; Slippery Rock, $340,000 and West Chester, $430,000.

Will is Lonesome Since Everyone's Flying to Hawaii

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 18.—California was awful lonesome yesterday afternoon with everybody that is anybody flying to Honolulu.

You can't beat those Germans for efficiency. They flew over to the eage of America and it looked kind-a foggy and they couldn't see the landing field very good so they turned around and flew back.

I saw a late picture of Lindburgh. That banquet chicken is slowly gettting him.

Plan To Draw Ballot Places

May Give Places To Candidates Early In Week.

SOME WITHDRAWALS ARE NOW LOOKED FOR

With all the candidates for office in Lawrence county, 412 of them to be exact, filed for office, the next date that stands out is the last day for withdrawing petitions.

Usually in every fight certain candidates decide that they are fighting a futile battle and sooner than handicap some other candidate, withdraw before it is too late to have their name taken off the ballot. This date is August 30.

Up until 5 o'clock of that evening, any candidate so desiring can have his name withdrawn and it will not be printed on the official ballot. After that date it will be impossible to get it off. August 29 is the last day for anyone to enter a protest against a candidate.

Draw Next Week.

Chief Clerk James R. Lamoree is nearly "out of the woods" with the petitions of candidates that have been field. His corps of clerks has the list in good shape and the next step is to notify each candidate of the date for drawing for position on the ballot. This will probably be some time early next week, perhaps Tuesday.

The immediate need in this campaign is to get the voters assessed and get their taxes paid so they can register. There are three registration days, September 1, 6 and 10. Unless a voter gets his name on the books on one of these dates he cannot vote on September 20.

Some interest on the part of candidates has been noticed in the court house in this regard. Some of them have brought up names of men and women who were missed in the assessment and they are getting them on in order that they may get their taxes paid to register. However, it is not absolutely necessary to have a 1927 county tax receipt to register. A 1926 receipt will do.

CAMDEN, N. J., Aug. 19.—David Yerkes, 15, was killed near his home at Gloucester today when a bicycle on which he and his brother William, 17, were riding skidded into a motor truck.

Last Surviving Veteran In Plaingrove Township Will Be Accorded Honor

John A. Magee, Only Survivor Of 84 That Answered Nation's Call.

Celebration Is Planned By Community On Saturday, August 27.

Back in those stirring days of '61, Lawrence County established a country wide record for volunteers to the Union Cause. Only a small county, it sent out some 2500 volunteers, more in proportion than went out during the World War.

And of all the districts in the county none were more patriotic, none sent out more or better soldiers than Plaingrove Township.

Out from Plaingrove Township along with 83 other Plaingrove lads went John A. Magee, an upstanding young farmer lad who was willing to lay down his life if necessary, that the Union might be saved.

Of all that Army that left Plaingrove Township, only John Magee is left and in his honor, the citizens of the township are staging a patriotic meeting in the Plaingrove Unitetd Presbyterian church, Saturday, August 27.

Once projected the idea has spread rapidly. It is an opportunity to pay homage to the only survivor of the war between the States, and the men and women of Plaingrove want to show Mr. Magee that his sacrifice and hardship were not in vain.

The day's program will not be a long one. There will be a picnic dinner, followed by a number of addresses and musical selections. Not only Plaingrove citizens, but everyone in Lawrence County who cares to join in the celebration are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Magee, or rather Corporal John A. Magee, Company E, 100th Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, is not as young as he once was. Old Father Time has clicked off many numbers in his Wheel of Life, but the spirit that prompted him to thrown down the rake and hoe to take up the musket is still alive.

The plan of the Plaingrove Township citizens is a most worthy one. Doubtless many other men and women of the county will want to join with them to pay tribute to this last veteran who went out in '61 from Plaingrove Township.

Some day we'll have air lanes from coast to coast, with ships flying hither and yon, and a fellow can be at a point far away just an hour or so after he's gone. But when we get planes we can use every day, and planes that will run after dark, I wonder if then we'll be bothered as now, looking round for a place we can park. And will we be bothered with traffic police, and lights that go red in your face, and will we tear wings as we rip fenders now, and as we back a car into place. Will there be goofy drivers to clutter things up, will they pass without blowing the horn, and will we be bothered with neighboring planes, tuning up at the break of the morn. Now these are some questions that puzzle me much, when we fly down the wide Milky Way, will traffic be heavy for holiday drives, its seventy-four today.

FLINT, Mich., Aug. 18.—Anxiety bordering on the hysterical gripped residents of Flint early today as minutes grew into hours without news of the fate of Miss Mildred Doran, "the flying school marm," whose attempt to reach Honolulu from California in a Dole flight plane has apparently ended in disaster.

Miss Doran, the only woman in the epoch race, is a native of Flint. She was a passenger in the "Miss Doran" plane, with Auggy Pedlar, pilot, and Lieut. Vilas Knope, navigator.

Silent crowds thronged the down town streets throughout the night, refusing to go home until some definite word was received. They grouped around newspaper and telegraph offices, and wherever there was hope that news might filter through.

Relatives of Miss Doran were extremely nervous, but maintained a faint hope that the overdue ship might yet land safely. William Doran, Jr., University of Cincinnati senior law student and eldest brother of Miss Doran, paced the floor of a newspaper office.

His younger brother, Floyd, 14, and a sister, Helen, 10, were in the home of Mrs. Elmer Gorisen, an aunt, who was kept constantly advised as to the situation. William Doran, Sr., was at his farm 22 miles from Flint. He told his son not to advise him until he had heard the "very best" or "very worst."

Pedlar's Mother Anxiously Waits News Of Search

Mother Of Auggie Pedlar Pilot Of "Miss Doran" Grants Interview.

HAS HOPES SON WILL BE FOUND

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 18.—While the Pacific ocean was being combed for trace of her missing aviator son, Mrs. Frank Pedlar Joy, mother of Auggie Pedlar, pilot of the "Miss Doran" in the Dole Hawaii flight, anxiously awaited news of the search here today.

She has not seen her son since January, a year ago.

"We were on our way north from Florida," Mrs. Joy told International News Service, "when we learned of Auggie's decision to make the hazardous flight. We couldn't make the trip to the Pacific coast in time to see the start of the race.

"I'm not so sure that I'd have wanted to be there anyway."

The mother has high hopes that the precaution taken by the army and navy to rescue the flyers, should they be forced down, will insure Pedlar's safety.

"No, Auggie's not engaged to Miss Doran," Mrs. Joy declared. Miss Doran is the school-teacher from Michigan who is aboard the plane named in her honor. "I believe she sees nothing in my boy but that he is a good pilot."

"I don't care about the prize money," the anxious mother concluded. I'm concerned only about Auggie and those with him."

Although a native of California, Pedlar, 24 years old, was entered in the Dole race from Flint, Mich. His mother said he has been flying since boyhood, performing as a wing-walker, parachute jumper and student of aircraft.

For the past four years Pedlar's mother and Frank Joy, her husband, have lived in Miami, Fla. They are visiting Joy's sister here.

participants were aged, youth for one day at least had vanquished age and they pranced merrily as Hugh Hannon and later Jack Fee took turns as "callers" while Shoaf's orchestra played.

Determine Winners.

During the hours of 1 to 4 a staff of New Castle News reporters aided by Park Manager Carl Shaner and his secretary, Miss Melvin registered as many Old Timers as possible, to determine the winners of awards, designated by the Old Timers committee.

Mrs. Jane Blair, the oldest person on the picnic grounds, captured the prize of five dollars for being the "oldest woman" present. She participated in the grand march and quadrilles. She is 94 years old and resides at 107 Milton street, New Castle.

J. Y. McAnlis, R. F. D. 4, New Castle, aged 93, proved the oldest man present. He also was the oldest gentleman present at the 1926 reunion. He was at Cascade park early in the day and departed about 4 o'clock. He was awarded a prize of five dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Rodgers, 84 and 78 years old, respectively, took the award of ten dollars for being the oldest married couple. They live on the Willow Grove road and have been married 61 years and 8 months They have seven children living, 21 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

Longest Distance.

Harry Williams of San Francisco, won the award for having come the longest distance to attend the reunion. He was presented with an award of five dollars by the Old Timers committee after the registrars had compared the records for distance.

The second oldest gentleman to attend the picnic was Sebastian Campbell, 91, of 341 Shaw street, New Castle. He was accompanied by a young man—a chap who gave his every attention to the venerable citizen of Lawrence county.

The second oldest lady was Mrs. Edward Rhinehart, 89, of the Seventh ward, New Castle. She was accompanied by her husband. Both had a splendid time at the reunion and they did not leave the pavilion until 4 o'clock.

Three Aged Couples

In the contest to determine the couple married longest, there were three outstanding couples, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Rodgers winning. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Weller, Harmony, married 61 years, were second and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kerr, 304 North Beaver street, New Castle, married 60 years, third.

There were three persons in the contest for the person or persons who came the longest distance to attend the reunion. The committee awarded first prize to Harry Williams, San Francisco; second to Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Feringer, San Juan, Porto Rico and third to Mrs. B. M. Love, San Diego, Calif.

As the names of the first prize winners were announced they stepped to the judges stand amid tremendous ovations. They were showered with congratulations and each of the "young people" said they would return for the 1928 Old-Timers outing.

Fifteen Thousand Present

There have been Old Timers picnics in the past. There will be Old Timers outings in the future, but it is decidedly doubtful if another such picnic as that of Wednesday will be seen. Fifteen thousand people attended the outing, which was blessed with sunshine.

The executive committee which had charge of the picnic consisted of: Harvey E. McGoun, chairman; Ralph M. Campbell, vice chairman; William T. Butz, secretary and treasurer; Howard Morrison, J. Dick Long, Scott Paisley, Robert H. Whaley and Joseph Hannon.

The other committees were:

Ladies' reception committee—Mrs. Effie Peebles Kirk, chairlady; Mrs. Carrie Cunningham Wallace, Mrs. Kate Speise Williams, Mrs. Fannie McGoun Gormley, Mrs. Lizzie McCready Eroe, Mrs. Laura White Linton, Mrs. Mary Devlin Dickey, Mrs. Lillian Cunningham Westlake, Mrs. Ella Newton Pollock, Mrs. Mary Clendenin Ward, Mrs. Eliza McKee Jameson, Mrs. Sue Fulkerson Emery, Mrs. Maude B. Sunday Schools To Hold Big Picnic

Rieck-McJunkin Company To Hold Kiddies Picnic Tuesday

Members of the Beaver Valley Sunday schools are holding a picnic at Cascade park today. Many of the Sunday school children of New Castle and other towns between this city and Pittsburgh have joined in the outing. Manager Carl Shaner says several thousand persons are on the grounds.

On Saturday the People's Natural and Columbia Gas companies of the Pittsburgh district will picnic at the park. A crowd of 6,000 is expected.

king", they were burying. It was Elbert Gary, the man.

Great Cavalcade

Into Wheaton, with the early morning hours, there came the beginning of a cavalcade such as never before has been witnessed—a cavalcade of pilgrims, among them some of the mightiest men on earth. Silently, on the wings of purring motors, they came. Silently and simply.

They came into Wheaton—to a little church set on a corner—and the men and women in them got out and went into the church. There they stopped for a moment to gaze upon a still, white face, strong even in death, and then they went over and sat down in one or another of the pews—pews such as you have in your own church.

Flowers Everywhere

The organ chanted gently, singing the time away minute by minute, and all around were flowers, wreaths of them, garlands of them, blankets of them, huge bouquets of them. And in the front of the church, half buried beneath them, was the great bronze casket.

All of Wheaton was to pause in its day's business at the funeral hour. At Gary, Ind., the monster mills were to stop.

No sound from the industry he founded was to mark Judge Gary's passing—only the whisper of the wind and the twitter of the birds that he heard as a boy upon the farm.

If the cavalcade that came up Roosevelt road from Chicago with the dawn was imposing—historic, even—the procession that came up Main street was inspiring—touching. On foot these people came, not in shining motors—and there were young men and old, women young and middle-aged, and little children, all in their Sunday best. These were not the captains of industry, but the rank and file.

A bishop—F. D. Leet of Indianapolis—and two other ministers, the Rev. Ernest F. Tuttle of Evanston, and the Rev. James T. Ladd of Elgin, were to assist the Rev. Almer Pennewell, pastor of Gary Memorial Methodist Episcopal church, in conducting the simple funeral services. Organ music, a solo, a song and then the old familiar words of solace and of optimism—that was all. Then the bronze casket was to be lifted into the waiting hearse and there was to be the brief procession to the waiting mausoleum.

The final closing of those strong barred gates will mark the closing of another chapter in the history of American industry.

in a quiet way, and that is why the general public does not know more about it," was the statement of Mrs. S. W. Matheny, vice president. "We have raised a little money for our work and we are hoping that the way will open soon whereby we can go on with our proposed home. And of the money which we now have, none has been donated."

Mrs. Matheny further pointed out that if the women of New Castle ceased in their efforts, the effect would be noticeable in a very short time.

"The clubs of New Castle are large enough to support a club house," continued Mrs. Matheny. "Other towns which are not as large as New Castle support a center where the women's clubs of the town meet. Of course, our idea is to own our own house. We wish to buy some centrally located property already standing and then add to it."

Attorney Walter S. Reynolds has been working on this proposition and it is expected to be ready when the executive board of the women's clubs meets on September 20.

MOTHER'S BUSY SEASON

THERE are some weeds to be dug, wheat to be cut, fences to be mended and cows to be milked but down on the farm this is the season when mother is the busiest person alive.

There are roasting ears in hampers brought from the fields, peas, tomatoes and cucumbers ready for canning; peaches, plums, early apples and blackberries in buckets, tubs and pans.

The rich aromatic pungency of sweet spices, cinnamon, cloves and ginger fills the air. And in strained pulp bags dripping purple juices, white plates of golden brown discs in the sun, and full, steaming containers on the stove, there is promise of jelly, jam, preserves, pickle and sauce. Busy fingers peel, cut, slice and pit, stir, pour, bottle and cap, seeming never to ask or find a moment of relaxation. Quietly but hurriedly, for the fruit may spoil, the work is carried on until shelves are stocked with the good things that make a house a home.

On a smaller scale canning is done in the city. Despite the development of wholesale preserving, no substitutes for products prepared at home have been found. Even in the two-room, light housekeeping apartment one or two jars of peaches, plums or grapes reverently are being laid aside until winter comes again.

Then when the last robin has winged its way to the South and the shrill wind of winter demands entrance to the home, mother will go to the pantry, and proudly produce a jar, can or bottle. The hard work on long hot days will be forgotten; the memory of abundant fields, of juicy fruits and luxuriant gardens will remain. This is the season mother tries to keep until it comes again.

FLOOD RELIEF GOES ON

IT HAS been weeks since the flood crisis passed in the Lower Mississippi Valley.

Of the total area inundated, which was nearly 12,000,000 acres, all but 170,000 acres has been drained. Crops have been replanted on more than 2,000,000 acres. Army engineers have assembled much of the information necessary for the enactment of flood control legislation in congress.

Secretary Hoover will soon make his final trip of inspection through the Great Basin. The American Red Cross, which cared for 607,236 persons made destitute by the flood, reports that all but four of the 138 concentration camps have been discontinued.

Although support is still being provided for 130,000 persons, all but 2,000 are in their own homes and are aiding in the work of rehabilitation. These are heartening reports which show that while the flood relief work still goes on it is rapidly nearing completion.

WRITER OF HEALTHY FICTION

JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD, who has just died, was a novelist who had a field all his own which he cultivated with great success.

He knew the North Woods and he pictured them vividly.

He was not a deep analyist of character, perhaps, nor had he any subtleties of style. But he gave pleasure to thousands of readers.

He was not one of the ponderous "realists" beloved of the intelligentsia, nor was there anything of the morbid about him.

Yet it would not be surprising if his fame outlasted that of many "modernist" novelists so extensively advertised nowadays by their loving friends.

Friends are all you have to keep you from being a stranger.

THE WHIPPOORWILL

A whippoorwill is shrieking his incessant call and shrill,
Whip-poor-will! Whip-poor-will!
He has turned me from my reading, with his sad and mournful pleading
Whip-poor-will! Whip-poor-will!
All the evening long I've heard the sharp wailing of that bird
And I wonder what of pleasure he can find in such a measure.

What of meaning does it carry why that penetrating thrill?
Whip-poor-will! Whip-poor-will!
Does his heart rejoice or mourn, is he merry or forlorn?
Whip-poor-will! Whip-poor-will!
Is his soul with anguish burning, now the inky night's returning?
Does some fearful thought possess him or an endless pain distress him?

Save for this incessant shrieking now the evening hours were still:
Whip-poor-will! Whip-poor-will!
What is it he'd bring to notice that the one cry of his throat is
Whip-poor-will! Whip-poor-will!
Does he bear some ancient woe that he wants the world to know?
What, I wonder is the matter, that he keeps up such a clatter?

In Day's News

Prominent among those mentioned as possibilities in succession to the late Governor General Wood of the Philippines is W. Cameron Forbes of Boston, who would be personagrata to the Filipinos and is highly regarded for his character and ability. It was he who accompanied General Wood to the Philippines for an investigation and it was understood that he could have had the appointment as Governor General, but he did not desire to take it at that time. He had been Governor-General and before that had served as Vice-Governor, as member of the Philippine Commission and as Secretary of Commerce and Police in the Filipino Government. Mr. Forbes is a grandson of Ralph Waldo Emerson, was Harvard trained, and on entering active life, chose banking and commerce as his callings.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:55. Sun rises tomorrow 5:14.

It's been a hard week on most of us old timers so far and Sunday will be a welcome day of rest.

Whether the truth looks good in type depends upon whether it hits you or somebody else.

A western Democratic United States senator who aspires to the presidency says: "The woman of today wears fewer clothes on the street than her grandmother wore to bed That gent's mind has not all been confined to senatoring.

We always were good at suggesting things. Now we think that if all the candidates for office in Lawrence county would get together and give a big barbecue, cornroast, pie eating contest or something it would be a great thing and would give the people a chance to see them all together and get a better idea of all the men running. This is only a suggestion and we would pay nothing towards paying the expenses.

A few days ago while we were standing at the corner of Washington and North Mercer street we made the remark that very few people now living in New Castle ever saw the ground bare before where the bank has been torn down. One gentleman standing right there said he saw it bare and also had seen a building on it before the one just torn down. He can remember back some time all right.

Today's Storyette.

A man returning to his home in Virginia after several years' absence met one of the old negroes, a former servant of the family.

"Uncle Moses," he said. "I hear you got married."

"Yes, Marse Tom, I is, and I's having a mighty troublesome time, Marse Tom, mighty troublesome."

"What is the trouble?" said my friend.

"Why dat yellar woman, Marse Tom, she all de time axin' me for money. She don't give me no peace."

"How long have you been married, Uncle Moses?"

"Nigh onto two years comin' dis spring."

"And how much money have you given her?"

"Well, I ain't done gin her none yet."

A man at Washington, Pa., was fined $25 for masquerading in woman's clothes. We are betting he was discovered by the police looking at his legs. The most unlovely things in the world are a man's legs.

Most all real business enterprises are conducted by one man—and you will note that all those businesses are great. The poet, or whoever it was who said every great enterprise is the lengthened shadow of a single man said it all.

Our idea of hard and humiliating work would be running for public office and smiling at and shaking hands with a lot of people we would like to give a crack on the jaw rather than say anything to them. A candidate who wins is entitled to the job.

This story isn't new. Seems to me I've heard it several years ago, but it is so good that I'm going to try it on the fans.

A few days ago a poor man had put his two children into school, a book agent called on him and said:

"Now that your children go to school you ought to buy them an encyclopedia."

"Buy them an encylcopedia? Hanged if I do!" was the savage retort. "Let 'em walk like I did."

Today

Canada and Farmers.
A Great, Intelligent Land.
Planes and Submarines.
Valuable Is Man.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

President Coolidge feels that our farmers are happier than they were and many farmers seem to agree with him. On July 4 the President and this country celebrated their birthdays together. President Coolidge his 55th, the United States its 151st. The country is not quite three times as old as the President which shows what a young country we are.

American farmers will be interested to hear that in Manitoba, Canadian farmers control wheat export in a big "pool" handling 200,000,000 bushels. The exporters that raise no wheat but got the profit have lost control and farmers are getting a bigger price for their wheat. Perhaps our farmers will learn something from Canada.

Canada by the way, more prosperous than ever in her history, recently celebrated the dominion's 60th birthday and now welcomes two royal princes. Everything is coming Canada's way, including the best selection of energetic, valuable immigrants from Europe, the kind this country needs and keeps out.

In 1900 Sir Wilfrid Laurier made this prophecy: "The 19th century was the United States' century, the 20th will be Canada's century."

The more Canada gains he better we shall be pleased.

The twentieth century should produce enough for ourselves and our neighbor. Canada has one advantage she knows Great Britain is building airplanes intending to rule the air as she has long ruled the water.

And, unlike ourselves the Canadians needn't wonder what would happen to their prosperity if war broke out.

We are proud of our railroads in the United States. Canada has more miles per capita than any other country. Canadian farmers produced 15,000,000 bushels of wheat sixty years ago. They produced 410,000,000 bushels last year. We have a powerful, energetic nation north of us and are glad of it. They are good pace-makers.

Geneva will "take up the submarine question."

Britain, which dominates mentally nearly all the world except France and Russia would like other nations to have few submarines. There is no protection for Britain's gigantic mercantile fleet against them. Battleships and cruisers are worthless and can only run when submarines appear.

This country for national defense needs submarines more than anything else except flying machines.

Flying machines above water and land, submarines below water will keep this country safe if sufficient numbers are provided.

Any compromise of our right to build submarines or flying machines would be treason to this nation's safety.

The most valuable animal outside of a menagerie is an American human. Edward A. Woods of the Equitable Life Co. gathered interesting facts to prove it in a book, "America's Human Wealth."

Four thousand years ago in Babylon a male slave was worth about $21.90. Assyrians and Israelites in 500 B. C. put about the same value on a slave, also the Athenians. In 500 B. C. a Roman slave was worth a little more. Before our Civil war a slave was worth $1,000. The average American wage earner today is the most valuable in the world. Those working for wages in the United States produce seventy-two billion dollars which is the income on nearly fifteen hundred billions. That helps to explain our prosperity.

Other figures show that American workmen fearing competition with cheap labor here in America are foolish. Our workers meet now the most terrific competition imaginable.

Suppose science created mechanical workmen that could be hired to work ceaselessly, never stopping at the rate of 23 cents a day for fourteen workmen.

Could our workmen stand that competition? They are standing it now. For two and one-third cents an hour you can buy electric power equivalent to the energy of fourteen men.

This country's prosperity is made by the brains of its working people.

Fifteen years ago the average yearly earnings of the United States workers amounted to $771. In 1922 it was $1,400. It is much higher now. Ignorant rich people fear high wages, just as ignorant poor people fear the competition of imported labor.

The more money the workman gets the richer man becomes.

The more labor of the right kind brought in from Europe the higher the American workman's wages.

When there were only 4,000,000 people in the United States only one workman in the whole country a skillful New England carpenter was able to earn as much as $1 a day all the year around.

Bible Thought For Today

THE HOPE OF YOUTH:—For thou art my hope, O Lord God: thou art my trust from my youth. Psalm 71:5.

PRAYER:—May we remember our Creator in the days of our youth.

ABE MARTIN

Those who claim t' have seen th' new Ford say that it will not disturb church services while backin' out an' turnin' around. Nobuddy ever expected th' league o' nations t' amount t' anything without Uncle Sam in it, so let's hear no more about it.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HYPOCRITES.

As a Nation the United States contains more hypocrites to the square inch than any other nation on the face of the earth. As a people, we lie to and deceive ourselves, as well as other people. At every session of the Legislature there are new Pharasaical laws enacted by so called Reformers, regulating the moral conduct of the citizen. A great president once said, "You can fool all of the people some of the time, some of the people all of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time." It is so at Sacramento, California, the capital city of the state.

Opposite the beautiful capital grounds with its great buildings, lovely trees, green grass, and gorgeous flowers there has been build a great hotel known as "The Senator." This hotel has become the stopping place of many legislators, both Senators and Representatives. Every room in the hotel has a bath room, and every bath room possesses a corkscrew and every corkscrew is fastened upon a chain which is bolted into the steel frame of the building. Why the corkscrew at that place? Why bolted? The reader may answer both questions.

There are other legislative bodies in America too—the councilman of cities perform that function also. In Los Angeles there is a certain councilman who has been very prominent in politics for many years. He is the head of the Los Angeles Purity League. He has in session and out of session, denounced the immorality of the people, and advocating this and that ordinance calculated to improve that city. On a certain evening in August he was arrested by the police belonging to the vice squad of Los Angeles in the bed room of a more or less notorious woman of that city. The members of the squad allege that he was hardly clothed, while the woman was not clothed at all. The councilman in defense, says it was all a frame up, that he had been invited to the house by the woman to discuss some tax matters. The reader may in this case draw his conclusions.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

UNPOLITICAL AMBASSADORS

When Lindbergh made his record flight to Paris he was greeted by Ambassador Herrick as being the United States's "unofficial ambassador," or "ambassador without portfolio."

This opens up an inquiry which may be suggestive. We are always sending an ambassador to other countries, but most of them are politicians or alleged statesmen. The business and life of the country, however, are in quite other hands and their distinctions in achievement are attained by other kinds of men.

Why not select men that have made successes in their own business, send them unofficially to other countries without portfolios, pay their expenses and have them show other people what it is the United States is doing?

We might suggest Mr. Byrd, the man who flew over the North Pole. Doubtless he would be welcome in the capitals of Europe and would do much to spread the fame of the United States.

Then there are such educators as Mr. Hibben and Glenn Frank, who might deliver weighty messages to the Universities of Europe and enlighten them as to American ideals and accomplishments.

What a furore it would make in Paris or Vienna if Thomas Edison were sent to them, having the stamp of approval of his nation, to convey to them the peaceful message of the achievements of Science. We understand that Mr. Milliken of the California Tech is going abroad, and why should he not represent the American government abroad? Scientists all over the world would be glad to see him.

Then, think how the business men of Berlin, of London and of Paris would enjoy getting a message from such a man as Judge Gary, and learning from him some of the secrets as to how he has been so successful in his business.

The Mayo Brothers of Rochester, Minnesota, would be welcomed by the physicians of Oslo, Rome and Vienna, and would admirably represent the scientific efforts of America in the medical profession.

Such men as Ernest Seton Thompson and Arthur Brisbane could represent literary America and much good would come of their contact with European minds.

More representatives of this kind would emphasize the real message of America to the world and show how we are co-operating with all other countries instead of being their rivals, would show in fact what America is doing for the advancement of mankind.

The chance to begin anew with some of our broken resolutions.
More opportunities than any genius ever used.
Great challenges to faith and great rewards for the courageous.
Enough difficulties to make life heroic if we desire it to be so.
Circumstances out of which we make good fortune or bad luck, as we choose.
Enough battles to make us strong if we do not surrender.
Countless opportunities to learn if we have a love of knowledge.

KELLYGRAMS

By FRED C. KELLY.

THIS HUMAN RACE

Occasionally we are apt to forget for a moment the intimate problems relating to the cost of eggs and the state of the gasoline tank, and give a thought to the human race. Even the least imaginative of us is intently interested in the careers of his own children. We like to speculate upon how the world will wag on after our own personalities have been removed from the scene of action. We wonder how the human race will be developing by the time our children are old men and women.

Writers, scientists and doctors of philosophy have written and said much about the future of the human race. In recent years the predictions of these prophets have been rather more gloomy than they were in the hopeful days before the World war.

Is the race making progress? If so, what kind of progress? Is the human family destined to disappear, or is it headed for more glorious accomplishments?

The average writer and talker, in discussing these considerations, which are essentially of interest to every man, has a tendency to think of the human race as a closely knit unit, of which he is a part. He talks of a great war that will wipe all men from the earth. Such speculations fail to take into consideration the fact that the earth is quite a large ball, and that the human race that is scattered over the globe's surface is divided into many units and groups that have little in common.

You cannot wipe out the human race with any war, because there will always be many millions not interested in even a world war. All the nations that you can name out of your memory might be engaged in a war of mutual annihilation, and yet there would be enough human beings left after the war was over to repopulate the earth in a short period of time.

The possibility of the destruction or degeneration of that factor of human progress known as western culture is something altogether different from the disappearance of the race.

The human race won't destroy itself. But civilization, as we know it, could be destroyed.

What we generally call progress is largely concerned with machines, inventions, tall buildings, convenient ways of living. These factors are not necessarily permanent.

A great war, in which chemicals would play a leading part, might destroy the people that had reached the apex of mechanical civilization. Gases that would poison whole nations, and poisons that would make the soil barren for years, could do that, with but little help from explosives.

But such a war would destroy only that part of the human race in which we are interested. There are millions of people who would hardly know the war was going on. Inhabitants of Asia, Africa and the distant islands of the seas would come into the inheritance of the earth in due time, we bearers of the torch of civilization having thrown it away to grasp one another by the throat.

The race will continue. But whether our children's descendants will have any part in the game will depend somewhat upon how far we carry our international quarrels.

Coolidge Develops Travel Mania And Speaks Everywhere

President On Sight-Seeing Tour Through South Dakota Today.

Plans Extensive Tour In Yellowstone National Park And Other Points.

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

RAPID CITY, S. D., Aug. 18—Fresh from a 300-mile journey by steam and automobile to the Pine Ridge Indian reservation, President Coolidge prepared to hit the rails again today for still further sight-seeing jaunt in South Dakota, his aides meanwhile making final arrangements for a ten-day trip starting Sunday night that will take him into Yellowstone National Park.

The travel mania that has overtaken the chief executive is overwhelming those around him. For four years he has been reluctant to leave Washington except for his summer vacation, yet since his arrival in the Black Hills, scarcely a week has passed but what a special train has been harnessed up to take him and his party somewhere, be it to view rodeos and frontier day celebrations, to dedicate memorials, or merely to fish and have his picture taken. Some weeks there have been several trips.

"Rubberneck" Tour.

Plans for the remainder of the summer indicate a whirlwind travelogue. Today's junket moves to Hot Springs, S. D., where are located the Battle Mountain National sanatorium for war veterans and the most classy country club of the hills.

The Yellowstone trip will take him to Sheridan, Wyo.; Billings and Livingston, Mont., and then on through the park on a five-day "rubberneck" tour.

On September 2, Mr. Coolidge has indicated a willingness to go to Newell, S. D., and take in a fair.

When he finally starts for home, he has estimated he will stop off at Brookings, S. D., to dedicate a public library. It is generally thought the executive will leave here on September 18, although nothing definite has been announced. There is still a possibility that an earlier start may be made—largely because school should open here on September 5 and he is using the high school for an office. If he decides not to take up the offer of the school board to delay the fall opening there is then still the thought that the old homestead at Plymouth, Vermont, may be made a stopping off point. Others may be added, at any rate, as there is insistent pressure from nearly every wayside station for a speech or a public appearance of some sort.

ing comrades. Erwin announced that he will fly a zig-zag course over the great circle steamship lane to hunt for the missing planes.

Forced to Land

More than 12 hours overdue, the planes have already been forced to land. Flying experts said the planes' gasoline reserve was enough for only a few hours over the estimated margin needed for the flight to Honolulu.

The Golden Eagle, acknowledged the speediest ship in the epic air race, was due in Hawaii at noon yesterday, or perhaps a few hours late at the most. The Miss Doran got a late start from the Oakland airport. Forced to return by engine trouble, the Michigan biplane did not hop off until an hour and a half after the Golden Eagle.

War Vessels Aid

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Thirty-nine war vessels are scouting the Pacific ocean for trace of the two lost Hawaiian planes, it was announced at the Navy Department today.

The ships are strung out over a great area from San Francisco to a point near Honolulu and are making the search under the direction of Admiral R. H. Jackson, commander-in-chief of the battle fleet, who himself is on board a destroyer six hundred miles from Hawaii.

Lacking definite information as to the possible location of the "Golden Eagle" and the "Miss Doran", if they are down in the Pacific, Admiral Jackson reported that he plans to search the entire great circle area.

A report received from Admiral Washington at San Francisco said that no definite word had been received of the Golden Eagle since she left Oakland airport and that the Miss Doran had not been reported since she passed the Farallon Islands, 30 miles from the point of her take-off.

Admiral Washington expressed the belief that the Miss Doran was forced down by engine trouble within five hours after the start, but he could not prophesy the fate of the Golden Eagle, which, he reported, had a highly competent crew and fine equipment.

Renew Search.

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 18.—With the arrival of dawn the search of Hawaiian waters for trace of the two missing planes in the Dole race got under way today with renewed intensity.

All through the night there had been hopes that flares might be sighted, giving a clue to the whereabouts of the Golden Eagle and his crew of two or the "Miss Doran" and its crew of two and passenger, Miss Mildred Doran, lone woman in the race.

Both planes were equipped with flares but no report came from any source of the sighting of the Verey signals with which the planes were equipped.

And likewise there came no report from any other source.

A number of farms out the Harlansburg road and the Ellwood road have been offered and these will be inspected later.

Tunney Outwits Giant Maniac

LATER CAPTURED PLACED IN CELL

(International News Service)

SPECULATOR, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Gene Tunney, narrowly escaped violence from a madman today.

The champion had just returned from his morning workout on the road and was within fifty yards of his cottage, when a savage 190-pound patient, who had escaped from the state hospital in Utica yesterday, accosted him. The madman demanded that the world's heavyweight champion be settled right there.

Gene's quick wit saved him. He pointed his right thumb over his shoulder at the crowd trailing him and with a terse "see my manager" ducked in his cottage.

After an hour's search through the woods, the maniac was captured and returned to Utica.

Chicago Police Raid Gamblers

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Police axes here today smashed into a luxurious gambling residence in the heart of an exclusive residential district in which wealthy patrons were grouped around roulette tables, "chuck-a-luck" machines and black-jack games.

Search was immediately instituted for "Big Tim" Murphy, president of a labor union and late inmate of Leavenworth federal penitentiary. Police said that the apartment was owned by Murphy and Nicky Arnstein, husband of Fanny Brice, comedian.

Speculates On Fate Of Fliers

Lieutenant Maitland Says They Would Have To Use Rubber Rafts

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Speculating upon the fate of the Golden Eagle and the Miss Doran, Lieut. Lester J. Maitland, pilot of the army monoplane in the San Francisco-Honolulu flight a month ago, expressed the opinion to International News Service today that the fliers had been carried from their charted course by drift winds and forced to land in the Pacific perhaps thirty or forty miles south of the ship lane.

With the relatively calm seas indicated by last night's weather reports, Maitland said, a land plane not damaged in coming down to the water should remain afloat three or four hours. After that interval the crews would be forced to their five-foot rubber rafts.

NAME DR. WOMER AS PRESIDENT

Honored At Annual Reunion Of Former Students Of McElwain Institute

At the annual reunion of former students of McElwain Institute held at the institute grounds and building at New Labanon, Pa., Wednesday, Dr. W. A. Womer, of this city, was re-elected as president of the reunion association of that institution.

The meeting was held on the campus and in the chapel of the former institute building. A picnic dinner was served and enjoyed by all.

After the dinner, a meeting was held in the chapel of the institute building and it was filled to overflow with former students of the institute. An interesting program was carried out and included addresses by Prof. J. S. Fruit of Pittsburgh, a former principal of the institute, Walter McCormick of Cleveland, Ohio, John Burnette of Painesville, Ohio, Dr. Leonard Mook, of Detroit, Dr. Earl Magee of Oil City, Walter Boyd of Sharon, W. C. McCaughtry of New Lebanon, Lester Fleming of Titusville.

Several readings were also given by Miss Elsie McElwain, of the Pennsylvania College for Women, a great grand daughter of the founder of the institute. Then Dr. W. A. Womer gave a song recital and his efforts were well received. Miss Elizabeth Butz of this city acted as accompanist.

Old officers of the Institute Reunion Association were re-elected by the unanimous vote of those in attendance and are Dr. W. A. Womer of this city, as president and Mrs. Julia Burnette Grove of Greenville, as secretary-treasurer.

The peculiar feature of this school and the reunion of its former students, is the fact that in spite of the fact that it is many years since it ceased to function, yet its former students attend the reunion each year in increasing numbers and better than institutions still functioning today.

Among those present from this city were Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Dufford, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grove and Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Womer and family.

rifles but arming themselves with automatic pistols.

Porter's confession made public by Sheriff Hatfield, so far has advanced no reason for the shooting. Hatfield said that following the shooting, Porter left his companions and then determined to surrender.

Four countaineers who had been arrested following the tragedy have been released following Porter's surrender and reported confession.

The dead men were members of a camping party of ten. Their companions declare they were out digging ginseng when they were attacked in a remote part of a wooded hill. Dave Hensley, son of the prohibition officer and brother of Edward Hensley, made his way on foot after the shooting and arrived here nearly eight hours after the ambush and reported the shooting.

Tomblin's condition, is still reported as serious at the hospital here.

FIRST PLANE TO LAND IS GIVEN WILD ACCLAIM

(International News Service)

WHEELER FIELD, HONOLULU, Aug. 18.—Amid the wild acclaim of a crowd of 20,000 persons, many of whom had waited since last midnight, Art Goebel in the plane Woolaroc landed at Wheeler Field at 12:22 p. m. Wednesday afternoon winning the $35,000 Dole air race in 26 hours and 16 minutes.

"I'm tired but happy," he declared as he stepped out of the plane after it had made a perfect landing and taxied in front of the reviewing stand. The plane was sighted over the field at 12:16 and circled overhead several minutes before landing. It landed on the town side. The crowd went wild. They cheered themselves hoarse and men threw their hats and waved their hands as if unable to voice their acclaim. Soldiers rushed out and surrounded the plane as it came to halt before the flag decked stand.

"Boys, we did it." The Goebel flyer exclaimed as he and his navigator, Lieut. William Davis, U. S. N. leaped from the plane. The flyers had exactly a pint and a half of gasoline when the plane landed. The crowd was aroused as much at the beautiful landing of the plane as they were at the successful conclusion of the race. They swarmed around the grand stand as James D. Dole, donor of the prize, and other officials congratulated the winner of the gruelling trans-oceanic race. Goebel's time for the flight was 26 hours and 16 minutes, according to first computations. "We followed the radio beacon all the way", Lieut. Davis, navigator, said.

"We sighted the end of Maui first and the rest was easy", he added. The crowd continued it tumultuous cheering as the flyers were honored by the reception committee.

Almost covered with lais, the flyers were conducted from the reviewing stand to the hangar with the crowd cheering madly. Goebel's first act was to dispatch a radio to his mother in Los Angeles. It read: "Dear Mother: Reached Honolulu in 26 hours and feel like a million." The flyers said they had not sighted the water until this morning after they left the Golden Gate yesterday. They flew at an elevation of from 6,000 to 8,000 feet and had good weather all the way. Goebel did not sight any of the other planes in the race during the whole trip, he said.

THE PATH OF LAW

A fanatic in a Louisiana town let a poisonous snake bite him to prove that no harm could come to a "child of God." But at last report his arm was badly swollen and he had lost the use of his hand. When natural law was put into effect the Creator doubtless assumed that human beings would have intelligence enough to obey it. The stupid and the fanatical must prove great disappointments to the Creator.

The elder Thompson believed in colleges and the background of education that comes from college training. He also believed in learning your own business from the bottom up. It's a winning combination.

LEST WE FORGET

The Great War began 13 years ago. It was once called a war to end war. Several nations of the world appear to have forgotten that. Let us not be too weary of figures to keep a few in mind. They make us less indifferent about the policies that may lead to another war.

At the end of the Great War there were just under 10 million known dead. There were just under three million presumed dead. There were six and a quarter millions seriously wounded. There were 14 millions otherwise wounded.

MAKING SCIENCE POPULAR

A pin head is a platform big enough for the performance of a whole troupe of disease germs. The microscope and motion picture camera now disclose the growth and behavior of little organisms too small to be seen by the naked eye. Such pictures are more interesting than some of our best custard pie comedies.

We are finding ways of popularizing science. It is a good sign.

OLD TIMERS

Written By Helen Lighty During Grand March At Pavilion Wednesday

Tottering feet, marching with pride,
Comrades of years, side by side,
Life well done, neath God's bright sun
Waiting for happiness yet unbegun.

Measures slow and air serene,
Smiling gently at things they have seen,
Old men and women, in love with life
In spite of their share of storm and strife.

Tottering feet, marching with pride,
Fond sons and daughters at their side,
Ranks of veterans of life's grim fight
Soon to be broken, by the Eternal light.

You've seen life at its best,
And life at its worst,
But in joy and sorrow
With your children you're first.

Travels 4,460 Miles To Reach New Castle For Old Timer's Reunion

Although she was far away when the call for the Old Timer's picnic was issued, distance did not deter Mrs. B. M. Love of San Diego, Cal., from attending the annual affair.

Seventy-five years of age, Mrs. Love traveled 4,460 miles to get to New Castle in time for the event.

From San Diego she went to San Francisco, where she boarded a boat which took her through the Panama canal to New York whence she came by train to New Castle.

Mrs. Love was born on Mercer street in 1852. She lived in New Castle until five years ago and then moved to San Diego.

GROVE CITY, Aug. 18. — Major Fred McCoy, local officer of the 112th Infantry, Pennsylvania National Guard, commanding the First Battalion, received his promotion to the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel this week, according to official orders dated August 12. Colonel McCoy's promotion was made following the resignation of Lieutenant-Colonel Frederic P. Schoonmaker, of Pittsburgh.

He has been assigned as Executive Officer of the 112th Infantry, with headquarters here at Grove City. He will be responsible for the interior administration of the regiment under the command of Colonel C. Blaine Smathers.

Colonel McCoy has served with the Pennsylvania National Guard for the past twenty-five years, enlisting as a member of the old Company M in 1902. He was commissioned as Second Lieutenant in 1913, and promoted to First Lieutenant and late Captain during the service of the regiment on the Mexican Border in 1916-17. He entered the World War as Captain in command of Company M, and in 1919 was promoted to Major in command of the Battalion. Since the war and the reorganization of the Guard, McCoy has held his rank of Major until his recent promotion to Lieut.-Colonel.

Boro School Will Open August 29

The South New Castle Boro school will open for the 1927-28 term on Monday, August 29, instead of September 6, as had been previously planned, according to George A. Conley, secretary of the boro school board.

OCTOBER 16 IS MISSION DAY

Plans Being Made For Annual Observance In City Churches.

MAKE REPORT OF SOME ACTIVITIES

Sixteenth annual meeting of the City Rescue Mission will be held on Sunday, October 16, followed by a week or more of special services with preaching every evening by Rev. G. A. Leichliter of Buffalo, N. Y., and special music led by Peter Quartel of Dayton, Ohio.

October 16 has been set as the date when the sixteenth anniversary of the mission will be observed in the various churches of the city. The meetings during the following week will be held in one of the downtown churches. It is during this anniversary that the board of directors of the mission make special effort to add to the support of the mission by its many friends.

Once a year at the time of the anniversary services the people of New Castle have contributed heartily to the support of the mission and it is only on account of their generosity that the work of the mission has been able to go forward.

E. J. Berquist, superintendent of the City Mission names among the activities and services of the mission the past year, 600 gospel services in the mission, on the streets, and various other places in which 700 people were dealt with and made personal confession of taking Christ as their Saviour; 1,390 visits and calls were made besides many personal calls; 800 free meals were furnished to the hungry and 591 free beds to those who had no place to lay their head, also 500 free baths.

Work and odd jobs have been secured for the unemployed; Gospels of Christian literature has been distributed; many hundreds of garments which were given by friends of the mission have been given to the needy; 80 bushel baskets of food were given the hungry at Christmas time while more than 3,000 mothers and kiddies were given a free picnic at Cascade Park.

Other features of the service rendered by the mission besides the nightly Gospel services are the Sabbath School each Sunday afternoon, sewing classes, and comfort to the sick, the sorrowing and friendless.

Copy Of Famous American Opera Book In Library

Anyone who wishes to read "The King's Henchmen," a book written by Edna St. Vincent Millay and Deems Taylor, before it is presented by the Metropolitan Opera Company at the Scottish Rite Cathedral some time after Thanksgiving, this year, can do so. The Public Library has a copy of this book on its shelves and wishes to make this announcement early, so as to avoid a last minute rush for the book.

This is a native American opera and the cast will include over 110 persons. In many cases, some people like to read a play or whatever it is, before they see it presented. This announcement gives all those wishing to read the book before the play is presented here, plenty of time to do so.

W. S. Treser Is Candidate For Seat In Council

Formally Announces His Candidacy For Republican Primaries

W. S. (STAN) TRESER

I wish to announce myself as a candidate for the office of city council, subject to the Republican primaries to be held on Tuesday, September 20, 927.

I have been a resident of the city of New Castle all my life. At present I am engaged in the engineering profession and am a member of the firm of Treser & Treser.. This, together with the experience gained by my years of service with the city engineer's office, gives me a knowledge which would be of value in coping with the problems which arise.

I realize that the voters will make up their minds relative to the candidate's fitness for office from their own investigations and not from what the candidate might say in recommending himself. However, I wish formally to make this pledge that, if elected, I will devote all my time to the office and any complaints or requests brought to my attention will not be ignored. I invite an inspection of my record and respectfully ask for your support in the coming primary.

W. S. (STAN) TRESER.

High School Will Install Time Clock To Teach Punctuality

(International News Service)

ALAMEDA, Cal., Aug. 18.—Pupils in Alameda high school are taught the virtue of promptness by punching a time-clock upon their arrival in class.

The experiment at present is limited to the vocational education classes but it has been so successful that local educators plan to make its use general.

The pupils not only learn the conditions under which adult workmen labor in factories, Charles Cox vocation director explained, but they also are keenly anxious to keep a neat card by being on time to class.

Makes Heroic Rescue Attempt

(International News Service)

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Aug 18—Friends of Lewis Androkitis of Tamaqua today acclaimed him a hero, despite the fact he was unsuccessful in his efforts to save the life of his friend, Michael Goits, 31, whose body was found in the workings of the Mary D colliery near here after a 24-hour search.

Stumbling against a mine prop and dislodging it, Androkitis placed his back against the loosened support and held it in position for more than an hour, while he shouted for aid. His cries brought rescue crews who succeeded in stemming the fall of rock, but he was unable to get Goits out from under in time. Goits was buried in a slide and rescuers searched for his body for 24 hours before it was found.

"Delayed In Transmission"

DESSAU, Germany, Aug. 18.—Thirty five hundred pieces of mail for the United States are now reposing in a vault in the Dessau post office.

This mail was to be carried by the Europa and the Bremen when they made their dash across the Atlantic, but since the flight failed to go through, the mail was brought back. The mail awaits a ruling of the Federal ministry of posts and the eventuality of another effort of the Junkers to cross the Atlantic.

TEETH FOR LIFE!

Manny, Woman's Faithful Friend, May Live, But Never Again Know Taste of Marrow

ATLANTA, Ga. (I-I-N Special).—Manny, who for sixteen summers has romped the streets and yards of Atlanta, is under sentence. All of Manny's bone-worn teeth are condemned to extraction. And thus Manny ends his days in disgrace.

Manny was out on the street the other day. Just scouting around, you know. Hunting for cats, but rather hoping he wouldn't find any, because sixteen years is a ripe old age for dogs, an age in which spark of battle is dull.

He espied a neighbor's youngster, and for some reason, probably just in play, nipped him.

Manny was taken into custody and duly arraigned in the City Recorder's Court.

Tearfully his mistress pleaded for Manny. In all of her eighty-seven years, Mrs. Frances Edwards said, she never had a better friend than Manny. Fortune and death had taken many from her in her life, but Manny had been loyal for sixteen years; he would be loyal until he, too, was called by death.

Furthermore, Mrs. Edwards told the court, Manny's teeth are worn dull. He would not give a vicious bite, and he cannot.

The Recorder listened sympathetically. The law of the State of Georgia provided that Manny must die, but the Recorder resolved to temper the law with mercy. He granted Manny's life, but decreed that his teeth must be extracted.

And thus the rest of Manny's days will be biteless and boneless.

New Castle Woman Declares Most Beautiful Scenery Is Found In United States

Dear Editor:

Sometime ago I saw a request in your paper asking people to write you of their vacation trips.

My husband, I, son Daniel Hughes, Charles Brickner, Jr., and my sister Miss Nora Filigrove of Pittsburgh left Saturday night, July 30th, for a trip to my husband's home town of Pulaski, N. Y. We went to Franklin and then struck Route No. 5, then to Dubois, from there to Coudersport.

At this point we visited the Ice Mines, that is a shaft about 15 feet into the earth, this is called Nature's Wonder and it certainly is. Even in the warmest weather it is frozen harder than ever. It has puzzled the scientists for years as how the ice freezes and stays that way forming large ice candles and different objects. Leaving this we went on to Elmira, which is a very beautiful city. From there to Watkins Glen. This is one of the most beautiful places that I have ever seen. The cliffs vary in height from 100 to 300 feet, and in some places the streams have cut out the most queer shapes in the rocks. The state has made a good walk up thru the Glen at a cost of thousands of dollars. Some of the interesting points there were: Minnehaha Falls, Rainbow Falls, Cavern Cascade, Sentry Bridge, one cannot find words to describe them. After travelling the length of Seneca Lake, which is 40 miles long and the deepest part is 600 feet, it is also noted for its marvelous coloring sometimes being compared to the Mediterranean because of its beautiful blue.

We then arrived at our destination, Pulaski and Altmar. While we were there we visited the Salmon River Falls which is 116 feet deep, this is also very interesting. From here we visited the Thousand Islands, one of the most wonderful trips I have ever made was here. These islands are often called the Venice of America. We took a boat at Clayton and rode among the islands, a distance of 45 miles of the most beautiful scenery the eye could see. Summer homes that cost millions of dollars. The largest and most beautiful is called the Boldt Castle at a cost of seven million and was never completed inside on account of his wife's death. These islands vary from mere rock points to several square miles area. Peculiar names have been applied to the unusual formations such as, Devil's Oven, Out of Sight Channel, Fiddlers Bow, Needles Eye, Lost Channel and others. They border on New York and Canada so when visiting them you are in both places at once part of the time.

After leaving this we went back to Clayton, then leaving Clayton for Alexandria Bay from there to Scaket Harbor and saw all the barracks and soldiers, this too is a fine sight to see our boys in training.

Then to Henderson Harbor where all the Summer Resorts are located. This is a very fine sight to see. At Sumuth Bay the water is clear, dandy for bathing. Leaving the next day for Port Ontario, Canada, this too is a large summer resort, the port being given up because of the rocks and the narrow channel, too small for boats to get through. Next stop was at Kosag Lake, a nice small lake of 4 miles long, boating and two dancing pavilions. Here we spent the evening boating and dancing.

Leaving the next morning for our home, coming by way of Oswego saw the old fort and then left for Rochester and Niagara Falls. Here we saw the Big Dam of the Niagara Power Co., which is 55 feet high and backs the water up for 13 miles. This dam is one mile above the falls and carries the water around the falls to the level below giving about 250 feet fall of water to the wheels that makes the electric power for all the towns from Black River to the Falls and Buffalo. We next saw the boats in the Rapids above the falls. The Falls themselves are a wonderful sight water rushing over them and hitting the rocks below. There is a special policeman below the falls to answer the people's questions and one woman asked if the water was boiling when it hit the rocks, that is a sample of the questions he was asked. While we were on the Canadian side back in near Toronto we had some good old Canadian Beer at a price of one dollar per quart, but it was their best, had our dinner there and we were glad to get back on our territory. We put up the tent and made ready to camp and then went and saw the falls at night, which is a sight I shall never forget those colored lights on the falls gave it a color that looked just like a painting, and hearing the roar of the falls made it all so unnatural, like you were not on earth

I have heard of people going abroad to see some natural scenery but that isn't a bit necessary when one has it right here in our own U. S., if they would only look for it. They say the works of our Creator are marvelous and I certainly believe it more than ever after taking this trip.

We arrived home Aug. 13 after having covered a distance of 1510 miles. The only thing that bothered us was the mosquitoes and they were terrible, about twice the size that we have around here, but we managed to live through it and were only a trifle tired for the past few days.

Now let's hear from somebody else.

Some Local Comment, Ideas And Suggestions As Given To News Man

By ALFRED SWIFT

The 5-5-3 ratio goes a long way toward disarmament, but I believe that it would be better if the government would discontinue the building of so many battleships and construct more air cruisers. Other countries are so far ahead of us in air development that it will take the United States a long time to catch up, let alone surpass, Europe. In this way, preparedness is the best remedy for world peace, as nations will not seek to fight with countries that have better equipment than they do.

Again, taxpayers take too little interest in their government. A few days ago I was talking to a man who is a candidate for council. He told me of the many things which should be done in New Castle. As he has private means, he is the type of man that we should have in public office, because he has no selfish motives and is not after the office for what he can get out of it, but rather because he sees a service which he thinks it his duty to perform.

I believe that the general public does not consider the seriousness of the present coal situation. Prices are sure to advance. Even now, the coal companies will not sell any coal at the present prices for future delivery. This is because of the present soft coal strike and the demand from the large industrial concerns. Just recently the price of coal advanced a little and this is what one can expect all winter.

It seems to me that the public should take warning at these little advances and take advantage of the present price of coal.

Coolidge's statement, "I do not choose to run for president in 1928" is characteristic of the man and his habits of speech. His words remind one of the proverb, "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold and pictures of silver." I see no reason why he would want to assume the strenuous duties of the office of president for another four-year term. I believe that there are several others who are qualified to make a good chief executive, but conditions might arise which would lead to the selection of Coolidge as the logical one. He has only been elected president once, and I believe that his candidacy for another term would not be contrary to the spirit of the precedent established by our first chief executive.

Boys Of 125th Second In Competition At Mt. Gretna Wednesday.

(International News Service)

MT. GRETNA, Pa., Aug. 18.—Governor John S. Fisher, former infantryman in the Pennsylvania National Guard, today had a better idea of the inner workings of the state's cavalry units, after a review of the mounted troops at Camp Gearty.

The governor, commander-in-chief of the guard, reviewed a parade, and witnessed athletic events, in addition to being honor guest at a dinner given by the Columbia Chamber of Commerce in the evening.

In the athletic contests, the 103d Cavalry was declared winner, when the troopers under Col. Arthur Colahan, of Philadelphia, amassed the most ribbons. The Provisional Regiment, consisting of the 53d Machine Gun Squadron and the 125the Engineers, was second, while the 104th Cavalry, under Col. Edward Stackpole, of Harrisburg, was third.

Revenge At Last!

Pat was taking Professor Jones down the river in a row boat.

"Pat," said the professor, "have you ever studied zoology?"

"No," said Pat, "I don't know nothing about it."

"Why, you've missed half your life," was the reply. Then, a little later, "Do you know anything about biology?"

"Nope," grunted Pat.

"Well, you've missed half your life, replied the professor.

Just then the boat hit a snag and upset.

"Help," sputtered the professor.

"Hey, Professor," yelled Pat, "do ye know anything about swimminology?"

"No," gasped the professor.

"Then in a few moments you're gonna miss your whole life," cried Pat, as he struck out for shore.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 18.—Appointment of a commission to study the distribution of state subsidies to school districts was one of the first matters to receive the attention of Governor John S. Fisher after his return from his vacation trip. The present system has been the subject of much discussion.

The newly appointed commission was given a $10,000 appropriation for its work. The commission is directed to report to the governor not later than Nov. 1, 1928. Three members were named by the governor, three by Horace W. Schantz, president pro tem of the senate and three by Thomas Bluett, speaker of the house.

The commission included Archibald F. Jones, Coudersport; O. B. Jobson, Oil City; Simon H. Sell, Bedford; Sen. William D. Mansfield, McKeesport; Sen. James E. Norton, Reading; Sen. Warren R. Roberts, Bethlehem; Mrs. Lillie H. Pitts, Philadelphia; Harry E. Himes, Kittanning, and Ellwood J. Turner, Chester.

Dr. John A. Keith, superintendent of public instruction, is an ex-officio member and under the act will serve as chairman.

There is just one right way to keep the skin clear and smooth

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight, I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

S.S.S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory. It is time-tried and reliable.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Seeing Is NOT Believing!

Concerning the Meaning of Labels

There's an old adage which says "Seeing is believing." Maybe that was true when Grandfather was an infant—

But it certainly isn't true today. Why? Because there are too many brands of malt on the market. There's this kind, that kind and the other kind. They all have fancy labels too. But it's not a label you want—it's something to back up that label. And now you're talking about the one malt which stands in a class by itself—Puritan Malt: the choicest No. 1 barley plus genuine Imported Bohemian Hop flavor equals Richness, Strength and Flavor. Moral: Don't be misled by a label.

"DOPE RING" UNDER PROBE

New Developments Announced In Penitentiary Dope Ring Investigation.

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18.—New developments in the probe of the "dope ring" operating in the Eastern penitentiary here was seen today with the announcement that warrants have been sworn out for two more convicts. Three men and a woman have been arrested already and are being held under heavy bail in connection with the scheme for smuggling dope to the inmates. Several convicts are in solitary confinement.

Existence of a $5,000 fund for buying the dope and paying for the smuggling of it into the prison also has been uncovered.

The quartet who have been implicated in the scheme are: Prison Guard Sergeant Pike A. Harper, Joseph M. McEntee, William McKeever and Margaret Moore.

Thomas J. Lawrence, a former policeman, serving a long term sentence for robbery is believed to have been the "brains" of the conspiracy. He has been placed in solitary confinement and will be questioned again today.

The "ring" is believed to have been in operation only a week as the prison only has been in charge of Sergeant Harper while Captain Herbert Smith has been supervising the group working on the site of the new penitentiary in Montgomery county.

A quantity of drugs was found in the cells of some of the convict addits.

Sharon Members Attend Session

A large delegation from Sharon attended the meeting of Castle Council, 365, Jr. O. U. A. M. last evening.

Many of the old timers took advantage of the system recently inaugurated by which the man holding the lucky slip at the end of the meeting is rewarded with a prize in gold. This is designated to get the more delinquent members of the lodge out to meetings.

It won't be long now until the Prince of Wales will experience no little difficulty in his one lone job—trying to look young.—Fort Wayne News-Sentinel.

Grand March And Old Dance Tunes Give Real Thrill To Older Folks

"All get ready for the grand march!" What welcome words those were to the Old Timers Wednesday afternoon at Cascade park. Many, aged and wrinkled by Father Time, but still with the gleam of youth in their eyes, fell in line and kept perfect time to the soft music.

All were there with but a single purpose, to recall the pleasures of days gone by and to store away in the farthest corner of their minds for a few fleeting hours all cares and troubles.

Have you ever been in the march, to feel the surge of enthusiasm, the thrill of excitement that you felt at your first dance more years back than you care to admit? Such were the feelings of the old folks.

After the march came the call for the old time square dances, bringing a vision into their minds of those happy days of the buggy and old gray mare, and their arrival home from a barn dance, as the chickens were welcoming the rising sun.

"Salute your partners! All promenade!" the music played and the dance was on. With the real grace and charm of the ladies and knights of old they swayed with ease to the charming music, their smiling faces revealing inmost feelings of joy.

The younger generation can't realize the supreme significance of this annual event in the lives of the old timers, but in a few short years their attitude will change and they too will be eager to join the inner circle.

It wasn't the tune of "Darling I Am Growing older" that floated in the air but the tune of "My Wild Irish Rose" that made its appeal to the old folks, who were really the youths of yesterday, with dancing feet and happy hearts.

FISHERMEN INTERESTED

But Not In Books On Fishing At Library It Seems.

Local fishermen are not concerned a trifle whether President Coolidge uses worms when he goes fishing or not. At least that appears to be the case.

Recently there was an article in this newspaper telling about the controversy that has arisen as a result of the first man of this nation using worms for bait.

However, it looks as if this controversy has come from some place other than New Castle. In the article about the president's fishing was the following paragraph: The public library has a number of books on fishing which have been collected for those who wish to learn how to fish and for those who wish to know about the fishing other folks do. Ask to see the fishing shelf.

Miss Alice M. Sterling, librarian, said this morning that "so far no one has called for the books on fishing." She added that "the followers of Isaac Walton must be out fishing instead."

Nevertheless, the fishing shelf is still there. Possibly when the weather gets colder and the fishermen begin to retreat to their winter haunts, they will look to the fishing shelf at the library for their enjoyment.

Congress Regulation Of Oil And Gasoline Industry In Offing

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18. — The new congress may be called upon to regulate the oil and gasoline industries.

While America's "black gold" industry suffers from over-production and its own executives seem unable to curb it, congressional leaders here are awaiting the report of the Federal Trade Commission on its recent investigation of gasoline, crude oil and kerosene prices. The inquiry was ordered by the senate when it adopted the Trammell resolution nearly a year ago. Since the start of the inquiry, oil and gasoline prices have decreased although oil men credit the lower prices to the over-production situation.

The question of government regulation will depend on whether the commission reports to congress that the oil companies were "arbitrarily fixing prices by agreement." The commission was instructed particularly to inquire into this phase of the oil situation.

This investigation, it was said, has been virtually completed. The report however may not be made public until congress returns in December.

Senator Trammell, (D) of Florida, who sponsored the inquiry, declared he would sponsor additional legislation for control of oil and gasoline prices if the commission believed such action necessary.

"If the report is such as to indicate further legislation by congress is needed," said Trammell, "I shall introduce it. It is my purpose to prevent oil companies arbitrarily fixing high prices for a commodity so much in general use and upon which so much of our industrial and social life depends. It is a significant fact that since this resolution was adopted by the senate and the commission started its inquiry, oil and gasoline prices have materially declined.

What Sleepless Nights Usually Mean

When you have to get up two or three times during the night it's often a sign of bladder trouble.

You may or may not have symptoms, such as a steady dull aching back and darting pains in the groin. At any rate, Marshroot is guaranteed to help you in a very short time or money back.

You'll feel better after taking one bottle—more energy—and whole nights of sound sleep. It isn't expensive. Eckerd's sells lots of it.

BIG GAS WELL NEAR MERCER

Well Is Making 50,000 Cubic Feet Per Day—Believed On Edge Of Pool

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Aug. 18.—The gas well drilled on the farm of F. P. Minner in East Lackawannock Twp. that borders on Mercer has been encased and measures a capacity of 50,000 cubic feet a day, it is reported today by W. H. Hovis who is the drilling contractor and member of a company of Mercer men who have under lease in this territory 2,500 acres which they will test for oil and gas.

Mr. Hovis who is a veteran driller of 40 years experience states that in his opinion the well just touches on a big pool of gas that underlies this teritory. But two feet of the hundred foot sand was drilled in putting down this well to a depth of 800 feet.

This would indicate that the well is just on the edge of the pool and gives such a yield of gas that a real volume of the product will be secured once the drill releases it in the pool center.

Hovis is also a member of the Mill Run Oil and Gas company with three wells in Springfield township to the south of Mercer, states that three wells for this company will be drilled this fall as well as two more for the East Lackawannock company.

Here's Real Relief From the Torturing Pains of Neuritis

Men and Women Everywhere Seldom Fail to Get Quick Relief from Pain and Suffering

When you've tried everything you can think of and nothing seems to even relieve those piercing, agonizing pains, just go to some good druggist and get a bottle of Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2. Be sure you get No. 2 which comes in capsule form.

Take these little dark green capsules as directed and notice how in about 24 hours they have considerably reduced, if not entirely banished those persisting nerve racking pains that have caused you many sleepless nights.

While this particular formula was compounded for the purpose of conquering painful, Gouty conditions and what is known as Rheumatoid Arthritis—a knotty, painful swelling of the joints—it has proven wonderfully successful in most forms of Neuritis and Sciatic Nerve Pains.

You needn't be afraid of its containing dope of any kind—it doesn't. Such things are only makeshifts and can at the best give only partial relief.

Be sure you've got Neuritis and then get Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2. McKees Kut Rate sells lots of it.

Just Strolling Around Alone Some Of Old Timers Have Enjoyable Day At Park

There is no place so lonely as an amusement park when one is by himself. Everyone is having a good time, and no one seems to be thinking about his neighbor.

Yesterday morning A. W. Biddle from Edenburg, with shaky hands, adjusted his blue tie and put on his best coat. Nothing was going to deter him from having a good time. For, although he is eighty years old, Mr. Biddle has the fire of youth in his eyes.

Grasping young Oscar Dinsmore by the hand, the old man came to the Old Timers' picnic. Oscar is only seven, but he and the old man are much attached to each other. In fact, they live together. And they are very proud of each other, because, well, each thinks that the other belongs to him.

Soon after Oscar had ridden on the Whip and some of the other rides, he deserted his old friend for more youthful ones. But old Mr. Biddle did not seem to care. No, he said that the boy probably saw enough of him at home, and it would be good for him to mix with boys of his own age.

But after a while, old Mr. Biddle became worried about Oscar. His mustache and beard trembled a trifle as he asked everyone where he could find Oscar.

Finally, Oscar turned up of his own accord, after having what he described as a "darn good time." So, again old Mr. Biddle grasped Oscar by the hand and, after the last event was over, they went home together.

Old Mr. Biddle was born at Edenburg in 1847. That makes him 80 years old, and he is proud of every year of it.

Another aged man who paraded up and down the grove alone was J. L. McCormick of Ray street. But he seemed to be having a good time, all by himself. He would look at picnickers, and then remember the time when he was young. For, although it might seem impossible, he was young once, he says.

Down the lower part of the Midway, past the Funny House and the Old Mill, Hannah Elizabeth Hasley tottered alone. Perhaps she was thinking of the time when Cascade Park could not be reached by automobile, but one either had to walk or hire a livery stable nag to get there.

"No, I'm not much on registering," she said when she was asked whether they had taken her name at the pavilion. "You see, I do not think that I am an old timer—yet." Finally, though, she told, and told that she lived on the Youngstown road. But it was all that the interviewer could do to get her to declare her age. After much effort, it developed that she would be seventy-eight if she lived until November 25. But she does not worry. No, she seemed very happy when tottering down the Midway.

Although he has been rather ill for the past week or two, that could not keep 'Squire J. Lee Cooper of Long avenue, from being there with the Old Timers. Putting his cold and sore throat in his pocket, or wherever one puts sore throats, the 'Squire took off his old black sleeve protectors, trimmed his mustache, and boarded a street car for Cascade.

The 'Squire shakes his head rather sadly when he is asked how long he has been in New Castle. And that he would not tell. But he did admit that he had lived on Long avenue for 40 years, and there is only one other man down there who can beat his record.

And the 'Squire was alone too. But he had a good time. He thinks, though, that he will have a better time today, for this is the time that all the Coopers meet in a reunion, and then the 'Squire will be able to chat with some of his old friends and relatives.

Yes, a picnic is a queer place to be, alone. But those who attended alone seemed to have a good time watching, watching the other people trying to entertain themselves.

Dear Sirs:

My wheat yielded 37 bushels to an acre, and I had 82½ bushels of oats to the acre. I used 200 lbs. of "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers, (AAC 2-8-10).

I have been using your fertilizers for many years and always found them satisfactory. At times, I have been induced to try others, but "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers have always given me the best results.

Yours very truly,

JOHN A. McCANDLESS

Such results as the above are not an accident. Neither are they unusual. They were obtained on a farm just like yours.

"AA QUALITY" Fertilizers assure a higher grade of wheat with the same seed, the same acreage, the same labor. Result, lower production cost for every bushel and a greater margin of profit for you. "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers pay you several times their cost in increased yield and quality.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

There must be some attraction downtown these evenings that are drawing larger crowds than for several weeks. We have found it harder to find a space along the streets to squeeze in with our flivver for parking.

Wonder who owns the oldest auto in New Castle that is in working order. Write Pa Newc about it.

Traffic Officer Tommy Jones located at Mill and Washington streets, is still without his horse. Says he don't care much now whether he gets one or not. Joe Simons declares he talked the cop out of the idea.

R. R. Potter, a resident of New Castle 20 years ago, and here on a visit yesterday after scanning the list of candidates for mayor at the primary remarked that he might move back to New Castle and run for mayor himself some day.

That effort to repair the sunken place in the paving on Wilmington avenue by covering over the bricks with concrete as mentioned some weeks ago has proven to be not so good. The concrete is breaking away and the hole is reappearing.

Someone slipped one over on the city sanitary cops who have been watching over the dump near Blaine street. The battered ruins of an auto or two have been deposited on the site, which for some time has been kept in rather good shape.

Auto riders coming in from Ellwood City declare that the practice of loading street cars on the cartway side at the entrance to Cascade park creates a traffic hazard at times.

Reports indicate that there has been a rushing business around the battery service stations lately in light testing. State highway police in this district have been quite busy stopping auto drivers and asking them about their lights. Credentials must be carried by motorists showing that their lights have been tested within two months. There was a line of cars in East New Castle one night this week, where officers were holding them up and examining the lights.

It must be coming to be quite the vogue in New Castle these days to pull a dog around town on the end of a chain or rope. We have seen several such performances during the past few days.

More proof! Millions using this new work-saving soap

A recent check-up of 239,000 housewives in typical cities showed that ALMOST HALF (112,000) bought Rinso. Amazing proof that millions, from Maine to California, are turning to this new, safe way to wash clothes.

Try it..... for a whiter wash in washing machine or tub

LAST year we called on 239,000 women in representative American cities.

Practically half the women interviewed bought Rinso! In one city 55%—in another 50%—in still another 51% were Rinso buyers.

And so it goes, in city after city. Rinso has literally swept the country!

This very next washday use Rinso — and see for yourself how this amazing granulated soap soaks out the dirt and stains. How it gets the week's wash whiter, brighter than ever.

Saves scrubbing! No need to ruin your hands and wear clothes thin. No hard work at all—for even the most soiled parts become snowy with little or no rubbing.

With Rinso you don't even need to boil the wash unless you want to—for Rinso whitens without boiling. Sterilizes, too—that's how clean it gets the clothes.

Thick suds in hardest water

Rinso is economical, for it's all you need on washday. No bar soaps, chips, powders or softeners—Rinso alone does all the work. Even in the hardest water it whips at once into creamy, lasting, soapy suds.

The millions who use Rinso know how safe it is. Contains nothing to harm your finest cottons or linens.

Be sure to get Rinso from your grocer in time for next washday! For economy and best results follow the easy directions on the package.

Fine in washers

Rinso results are just as wonderful in washing machines! The makers of 31 leading washers highly recommend Rinso for safety, and for a whiter, brighter wash.

And 32,000 demonstrators of leading washing machines use this famous granulated laundry soap to show their machines at their best. They use nothing but Rinso. Try it!

Guaranteed by the makers of Lux—Lever Bros. Co.

One New Castle woman said:

It was reading those letters from other women that made me try a package of Rinso the first time. Otherwise I never would have believed that doing the week's wash could be so easy. Why, Rinso just soaks all the dirt out of the clothes so that when I take them from the washer I only have to rinse thoroughly and they're ready for the line. Without any hard rubbing at all they turn out whiter and prettier than ever. It certainly is great in the water here I use it for everything—dishwashing and all other cleaning.

CHILDREN HAVE HAPPY PICNIC

Henry Home Children Are Taken To Lakewood For Outing

Twenty children of the Margaret Henry Home under the care of Mrs. Place, spent a most enjoyable and long to be remembered day on Wednesday at Lakewood Beach as the guests of Corporal Harry L. McBride Post, No. 522, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The P. & O. Electric company through its representative, C. C. Coulthard, donated a bus, which transported the youngster to and from the beach.

Mr. Rung, owner of the beach, extended all the courtesies of the place to make the children happy and also gave each of the children, a sailor cap as a token of the day.

The swings and teeter-totters were kept busy by the smaller children, while the life guard was kept busy by the older boys and girls, who were enjoying a swim.

Another feature of the day was a ride with Mr. Rung in his motor launch around the lake. As a climax to the days fun, a picnic supper was served in the new covered dining hall by Mrs. Place, assisted by Commander and Mrs. George F. Runkle. The repast was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The children who are in the home next year will surely look forward to another outing to be given by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

McBride Post takes this opportunity of thanking the P. & O. Electric company and Mr. Rung for the courtesies extended it and the children.

Cleveland Man Held Following Motor Accident

Auto Accident On Wet Slippery Road Near Washington, Pa., Lands Man In Jail

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 18.—Police today held William H. Edwards, Cleveland, O., building contractor, in connection with an automobile crash during the night in which Miss Sara Jane Winwood, 25, of East Finley township, suffered internal injuries, and the Rev. Nevin Schindler, of Millsburg, Pa., received a bruised ankle.

Interest Grips Boston, Expect Decision Today

Believe Arsenal Prowler Wounded By U. S. Sentry, Two Others Escape.

AWAIT DECISION OF SUPREME COURT

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Aug. 18.—Search for one of three men believed shot by a sentry when prowling about the United States naval ammunition dump in Hingham and the expectation that the state supreme court would hand down the decision in the Sacco-Vanzetti case held the center of interest here today.

The Hingham trio, carying packages, disregarded the order of the sentry and went by the iron fence which surrounds the government property. Shots fired in the air failed to stop them and the sentry and a companion, who came up on horseback, fired a volley directly at the prowlers. The trio fled from the vicinity of 2,000,000 pounds of TNT and other high explosives.

While awaiting the supreme court decision on exceptions to denials of motions for a new trial a writ of error and a revocation of sentence, lawyars for Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti completed plans to carry the celebrated case to the United States supreme court, asking that court for a review by a writ of certiorari.

This would be done only in event of an adverse state court decision.

However, it was understood that such procedure was rare in criminal cases.

Another Triumph

Pittsburgh has contributed much to the wealth of the nation. Now it contributes health and happiness to the world.

Pittsburgh has discovered the real secret of rice—and by an entirely new process, originated and perfected by the House of Heinz and its Industrial Fellowship in Mellon Institute has produced, after 5 years of study and experiment, a food so good that the whole world must applaud the achievement.

Heinz Rice Flakes—so good you fairly revel in their dainty crispness and delicious popcorn flavor—and then you notice that you are feeling better, working better, looking better.

This is because the remarkable process, owned and used exclusively by Heinz, so utilizes the natural roughage of the rice that it imparts a moisture-absorbing property which is one of Nature's best eliminative aids.

Heinz Rice Flakes are always crisp in cream or milk. Eat them because they are so good—so different. See how joyously the children take to them.

GAME IS CALLED FOR SIX O'CLOCK

The Massillon Agathons will battle the New Castle-Youngstown combined team, at Centennial Field tonight, at 6 o'clock. The locals have a chance to cop second place in the loop standing by a victory over the Ohio boys tonight.

The New Castle team will not be at home this Saturday. The boys will journey to Massillon for a return game. A victory tonight and also another on Saturday will send the locals stock soaring.

BABE AND LOU FIFTY-FIFTY

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The home run derby is a dead heat again. By clouting his thirty-eighth homer against the White Sox yesterday, Babe Ruth tied Buster Gehrig.

The Bambino had been fanned twice by George Connally, once with the bases loaded, before he parked the ball over the distant scoreboard in left field, breaking up the game in the eleventh inning. Gehrig got a long double which narrowly missed being a homer.

Miller Hurls One-Hit Game

Bessemer White-Washes Indie-Ayes 10 To 0 In County League Affair.

Miller the Bessemer pitching ace, came within the shadows of a no-hit, no-run game last night at Bessemer when he blanked the Independents 10 to 0 and dished up but one hit.

The Indie-Ayes were powerless before the swift slants of Miller, who breezed along in fine style with a change of pace that kept the boys guessing. Miller had eight strikeouts to his credit.

Bessemer found the offerings of Ciotto to their liking and hammered out 13 safe hits. Fahey led the attack for the winners with a triple, double and single. Black, Clark and Diffley also hit timely for Bessemer.

Lombardo had the only hit for the Independents.

Frampton Pitches Two-Hit Game As Croton A. C. Takes League Victory.

The Croton A. C. team of the Lawrence County League gained a 5 to 1 verdict over the Energy boys in a league tilt at the Energy field on Wednesday night.

Frampton, on the knoll for the Crotonites, limited the Energy team to two hits and after the first inning pitched hitless ball. Energy tallied their lone marker in the first chapter on their two successive bingles by Gennock and Mash.

The Croton team tallied three in the fourth and came back in the sixth with a pair of markers.

Augustine and Scaglione had the only extra base blows of the game.

High Grid Candidates Will Gather Tonight

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the senior high school, the New Castle high football candidates for the 1927 team, will gather in the initial session of the year. Plans for the opening of the camp at Muddy Creek Falls will be completed at the meeting.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner issued the call for candidates several days ago and the interest, since the recent announcement, has been extremely keen. It is estimated that over one hundred young hopefuls will gather tonight to learn what Coach Bridenbaugh has in store for them.

The football camp at Muddy Creek Falls will be opened the final week in this month, according to present plans. It is expected that about 40 boys will be taken to camp for training.

The locals face one of the stiffest schedules in the history of the school this year, and they will have plenty of work to do before they are in shape to tackle Dayton Steele, Youngstown South, Peabody and Washington.

Equipment for camp will be issued the boys at the Franklin high stadium dressing room at a later date, it was announced. All candidates for the team this year, are asked to attend the meeting tonight.

Ellwood Bows To New Castle

Local Golfers Take Return Match By Wide Margin.

NEW CASTLE LOST AT ELLWOOD CITY

Defeated some weeks ago by the narrow margin of one point at the Ellwood City Country Club golf course, the New Castle Field Club team on Wednesday afternoon at the local course was out for revenge and took over the visiting Ellwood City golfers by the rather one-sided score of 67 1-2 to 19 1-2.

On the previous occasion on which the teams played this season the Ellwood City players made 34 1-2 points while the locals were able to roll up but 33 1-2 points. On that occasion the opposing teams were apperently very evenly matched.

Ever since this defeat the local players have been tuning up in anticipation of taking over their fellow countians when they came here, and the results speak for themselves, when the locals were able to develop a margin of 48 points in their favor.

There were 29 players on each side and the possible score of either side was 87, that is, if there was such a thing possible as a perfect score, which, however, is seldom heard of in the game of golf.

Naturally the visitors played against considerable odds, that natural handicap of playing on a course with which they are not familiar, also that of playing against a group of players which includes a number of the better golfers of the district.

It is probable that this will end the inter-club contests for the present year.

North Hill Indies Win Again, 2-0

The North Hill Independents added another win to their long streak of victories last night, when they won their third straight game by trouncing the Dewberry's to the tune of 2 to 0 in a game played on the Nortn Hill grounds.

B. Altman and Schass engaged in a pitchers' battle with both being stingy with their hits. B. Altman allowed 2 hits and Schass 3 hits. The Indies bunched their hits in the first inning for their two runs. Both teams gave their pitchers airtight support.

The game was called at the end of the sixth on account of two opposing players fighting.

DEFENDING CHAMP LOSES IN WESTERN

Elaine Reinhart Of Dallas Wins From Dorothy Page

LAKE GENEVA, Wis., Aug. 18.—The western women's golf champion fell Wednesday in a terrific battle during the second round of the title tourney at Lake Geneva Country club. A woman who twice has held the title and scored three under par, the best thus far in the meet, dethroned the 1926 ruler.

It was Mrs. Elaine Rosenthal Reinhart of Dallas who had the heavier artillery and shot so uncannily that she put the titleholder, Dorothy Page of Madison, five down during the first nine holes and then defeated her, 4 and 3, by halving the 579-yard 15th in birdie 5.

While Mrs. Reinhart scored the best card thus far returned, needing only three pars on the bye holes for a 78, Mrs. Harry Pressler of Los Angeles was virtually as good, scoring 41-39—180 in defeating Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, co-medalist with Frances Hadfield at 80, 3 and 2.

NEW YORK, Aug 18.—Donie Bush, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, has been fined $100 by President Heydler of the National league "for violation of the playing rules and bad conduct" in Tuesday's game with the Giants. Bush was banished for protesting a decision in the first inning.

Ghost To Lead Football Team

CLYDE KELLY

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

WACO, Texas, Aug. 18.—When Baylor university's Bears thunder out upon the gridiron this fall, a shadow will lead them.

The spirit of a youth, the late Clyde Kelly, will actually guide the team, for when an express train smashed out the lives of Captain Kelly and nine other Baylor athletes last January, his teammates decided not to name a successor.

Kelly, at halfback, was the mainstay of last season's Bears, and he was the unanimous choice for captain.

This fall, before each game, a team leader will be named.

Hole-In-One Club Gets New Member

James M. Smith, Jr., Joins The Exclusive Golf Circle At Field Club

There is a new member of that rather exclusive golfing fraternity, the Hole-In-One Club, at the New Castle Field Club course.

This new member is none other than James M. Smith, Jr., one of the younger golfers of the club and also one of the most promising of the rising generation of followers of the ancient and honorable game.

It was early this week, while playing with M. D. Wells and Harold Pyle, that Smith made the thirteenth hole of the local course in one stroke, something that many have tried, but not a great many have succeeded in doing, although the number at the Field Club is gradually increasing.

There is 135 yards to be covered in making this hole and it is a clever golfer that can lift the ball into the hole in one long stroke.

Jones And Von Elm To Battle For Amateur Golf Championship

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Bobby Jones arriving in Minneapolis for the national amataur golf championship next week, announced that he didn't expect to win. That almost made two of us. I say almost because I meant not quite. Jones must be expected to win any tournament until he loses it. The writer, therefore, will content himself with saying that, when and if Jones loses this tournament, he the writer, will be surprised only in moderation, which is neither here nor elsewhere.

Anyhow, the percentage is against Jones. So, of course, is the field. That leaves only Jones against both and it is pretty much of a stand off, at that. If the young man is playing golf next week, the rest of the stuff can run hurriedly for Michael Francis Sweeney.

The trouble with Jones against the field in a national amateur championship is that he must beat at least one man every day. For that reason we can be justified in throwing out of consideration here his victories in the American open championships of 1923 and 1926 and his British open titles of 1926 and 1927. In each of these there was at least one man in the field playing better golf than Jones over certain intervals of 24 hours.

But he didn't have to beat that particular man that particular day. All he had to do was to head him at the end of the week, which he thoroughly did.

In other words, the 24 menace of the individual golfer suddenly bereft of all control and shooting like a gunman is reduced to a minimum in an open championship. But it is elevated to a maximum in the amateur event, where daily match play prevails.

First Class Golfers.

Bobby Jones and George Von Elm past and present champions respectively, naturally are the standout candidates in the field of 170, this is true of Jones because he is a stand out anywhere. It is true of Von Elm because he is the only man to beat Jones since 1923 and, conversely, Jones is the only man to gain a decision over him during the same period.

Von Elm has been a finalist in two of the three years and semi-finalist on the other occasion. And he is the tanacious type that, once in, won't get out without some high pressure salesmanship by the party immediately concerned.

This pair by the way, constitutes all that is left of the so called old guard as a first class threat against a national title, Ouimet is a great fellow and a fine golfer but he hasn't won a national championship since 1914. The parade seems to have gone on by him. That of a certainty, applies to old Bill Fownes and in a slightly smaller measure to Chick Evans. The latter won last in 1920 and was a bellewether until several years ago. Then he folded up. Barring accidents he is through, although Minnekahda was the course on which he rang the bell with that 286 record in the national open in 1916.

Jess Guilford won six years ago and seemilgly called it a career. He hasn't even been close since them. Bob Gardner reached the finals the same year and that about appears to have ended his story. Max Marston and Davidson Herron probably were one-year champions.

Supose any of those mentioned did what they can do on the particular day they met Jones or Von Elm? Quite so. I'm not the gent that answers questions, I only ask them.

Chicago Loses To Brooklyn

Cubs Lose Ground In Pennant Fight As Pirates And Cards Advance.

BABE RUTH HITS HIS 38th HOMER

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Unexpected aid from the Brooklyn Dodgers in beating the Cubs had enabled the Pirates and the Cardinals to draw closer to the league-leading Bruins today. Pittsburgh now trails Chicago by only five games, with the Cardinals still one game behind the Pirates. The Giants lost to Pittsburgh and are two games behind St. Louis.

Babe Herman of Brooklyn came up as a pinch hiter with two on base and smacked a homer that took the steam out of the Cubs. The Dodgers won out in the ninth, 6 to 5, on Barrett's single.

The Giants' winning streak of six games was practically ruined when Carmen Hill of the Pirates held them to five hits and won in a romp, 4 to 1. The Waner brothers came to bat ten times and got on base seven times.

The Cardinals scored five runs in the seventh and trimmed the Braves again, 7 to 3. The Braves could make no headway against Jess Haines.

Charley Dressen's homer enabled Luque of the Reds to win a 2 to 1 duel from Ulrich of the Phillies.

The Yanks got but five hits off Sergeant George Connally of the White Sox, but one of them was a tremendous homer by Babe Ruth in the 11th inning, which gave the Yanks a 3 to 2 victory. It was Babe's 38th homer, tying Gehrig.

Billings, a bespectacled twirler from Brown University, in his first major league start, pitched the Tigers to a 6 to 2 win over the Red Sox. It was Detroit's seventh straight victory.

Grove outpitched Hudlin as the Athletics won their third straight game from Cleveland, 4 to 1. Long hits by Cobb and Wheat featured.

The Senators split a double bill with the Browns and now trail the Yankees by 14 games. Lisenbee held the Browns to four hits in the opener and won 4 to 1. O'Rourke's single in the ninth gave the Brownies the nightcap 3 to 2.

Conference Coaches Meet Next Month

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Western Conference football coaches and officials yesterday were summoned to the annual pre-season conference here on September 10 to discuss rules and interpretations.

The session will be in charge of the Conference faculty committee on officials, composed of Profs. Ralph W. Aigler of Michigan; Thomas F. Moran, of Purdue, and Major John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner of the Conference, as chairman. It was this body which voted last winter to enforce a two-second halt on all shift plays, before the ball is snapped. Various other football conferences fell into line on this restriction of the shift play.

SORDS POINTS

Cubs Put on Too Much English for Most Clubs

Joe McCarthy's Climbing Cubs continue to set the pace in the National league and the consistant ball produced by his interesting entourage still causes most fans to give them a slight edge in the race.

And Elwood English, serving his first season in the majors, continues to draw the plaudits of the multitude because of his all around playing at shortstop.

English had never played in—and possibly never had seen — a major league game until purchased by the Chicago club from the Toledo Stengelites last winter.

McCarthy has had his troubles filling the third base position. His second basing still shows room for improvement. Clyde Beck's hitting has been about the size of his hat. Sparky Adams has been shuttled back and forth between second and third. Fred Haney has been dragged in to fill both places. Charley Pick has had his fling at third.

Meanwhile Mr. English proceeds to put just the right amount of English on the ball at bat and afield. He is flirting with .300 mark at the plate. He is aided around the short field by the largest pair of hands the minor leagues boasted—until he took them to the majors.

English started his meteoric career two years ago on the sandlots of an Ohio town and was unearthed by Toledo scouts before the close of his first year in the semi-pro game. Owner Wrigley of the Cubs, smacked down 50,000 iron men and a handful of run-of- mine ball players for him.

Pirates Win From Giants

Carmen Hill Turns In His Seventeenth Victory Of Year.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Carmen Hill turned in his 17th victory of the season here Wednesday by holding the Giants to five scattered hits and the Pirates defeated the Giants 4 to 1.

As a climax to the joyous occasion for Donie Bush's crew, the Dodgers stopped the Cubs in Brooklyn and the Pirates cut away a game between them and the top of the National league.

Fred Fitzsimmons pitched for the Gothamites and lasted eight innings but during that time the Pirates had touched him for eight blows and Clarkson was sent to the mound.

The Giants however, found it impossible to overcome the score of 3 to 1 and in the last frame the Pirates to make thinks look better scored a fourth tally. The box score:

Radiator Stars Trim Hillsville

The Radiator Stars, late of the Twilight league stopped Hillsville last night at the Hillsville field by a score of 7 to 4. The pitching of Grey was responsible for the Stars victory.

Hillsville could not solve Grey with any degree of effectiveness and secured but seven measly bingles. The Stars found the offering of Riley easy to hit and banged out 13 safe blows.

Pannell and Buckner led the Stars with three hits apiece, Messena and Riley were the best stickers for the losers.

Mail Carriers Trim Printers

The Postoffice gang nosed out the New Castle News Printers 4 to 3, in their battle staged last night at the Croton Field. The game was halted in the sixth inning on account of darkness.

The Printers had one big inning, the fifth, when they tallied their three markers. The Mail Carriers scored in the third, fourth and fifth innings. McNicholas on the hill for the Printers pitched a fine game allowing but four hits and keeping them scattered, but poor support cost him the victory. Wilson was on the knoll for the Mail Carriers.

Gresham, Roberts and Hay had extra-base hits.

Croton Defeats First Christians

The Croton M. E. team downed the First Christians, 10 to 8, in a Church League game staged at the Lehigh field.

The Croton boys tallied three runs in the first inning and came back in the fourth to score six more and to place the game on ice. The Christians got to Kerr in the second inning and drove him from the hill. Miller relieved Kerr and later Nolan replaced Miller. The Christians tallied six runs in the second chapter.

Morgan and Kerr had the only extra base hits. The bright feature of the game was a triple play executed by the Croton team.

Open Golf Course At Conneaut Lake

CONNEAUT LAKE PARK, Aug. 18.—Golfers from far and near attended yesterday when the new 18 hole golf course at this park was opened. A new club house on the grounds has been erected for the accommodation of visitors.

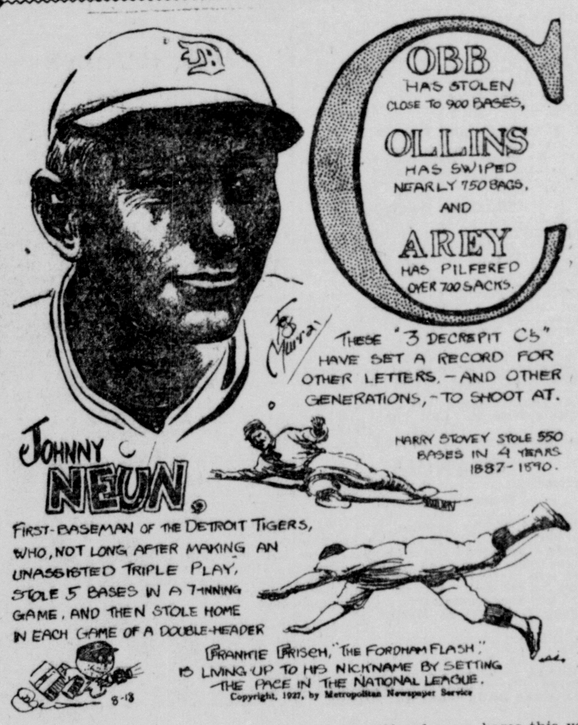
Best Base-Stealers — By Feg Murray



That base-stealing has not lost out entirely is proved occasionally for the edification of the baseball fans by an outburst of sack-pilfering, carried on usually by some member of the "younger set", among which is Mr. John H. Neun, first baseman of the Detroit Tigers and newspaper man in Baltimore during the off season.

Last May, with regular First Baseman Blue out of commission, Johnny more than made the best of his opportunity to play regularly and knocked off an unassisted triple play against Cleveland. Later on, in a series with the Yankees at Navin field, Neun stole five bases in a game that was called at the end of the seventh inning on account of darkness. The record number of bases for a nine-inning game is only two more than that and was made more than a dozen years ago. A little later, in a double-header against the Senators, Johnny Neun stole twice, once in each game. At this writing the Tiger first baseman is topped only by George Sisler and "Tiny" Tavener when its comes to pilfering sacks in the younger circuit.

Among the "older set" who still are able to negotiate a stolen bag now and then with eclat and aplomb, are Max Carey and Ty Cobb, two of the greatest sack swipers of all time. Cobb, who stole 96 bases in 1915, has already pilfered more bases this year than he swiped in 1925 or 1926, and it is quite possible that he will have his best year in this line since 1919. The poor decrepit old fellow stole home a couple of times earlier in the year!

Max Carey had a field day in Pittsburgh last month, swiping three bases and getting three hits against his former teammates on July 26. Twice in one inning he took part in successful double steals with Harvey Hendrick, the final one landing Max on the home plate.

Frankie Frisch is away ahead of the base-stealers in the older circuit, with Cuyler and Carey and "Sparky" Adams trailing. But Frankie won't come even near the record of 156 set by Harry D. Stovey of Philadelphia in the American Association, back in 1888. Stovey stole 143 bases in 1887, 156 in 1888, 115 in 1889 and 136 in 1890! William R. Hamilton, who stole 937 bases in 14 years, holds the official major league record of 115 in one season, made in 1891.

Feg Murray Says—
Supple joints are necessary in order to make perfect dives," says the handbook on swimming.

Swimmers would also do well to avoid certain well-known joints and spend less time in notorious dives.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Lew Tendler, in his day one of the greatest lightweights in the game and foremost exponent of the southpaw stance, plans an immediate invasion of the west coast to tackle Sergt. Sammy Baker, Ace Hudkins and one or two other tough boys of the present generation.

Tendler's trip is a commercial venture, pure and simple. He is past his day as a fighter. He has been battling 13 years. Few fighters retain their form that long. Tendler fought himself out four or five years ago.

The 15-round battle with Benny Leonard, June 24, 1923, marked the high point of his career. He had the lightweight title within his grasp that day but actually let the champion kid him out of it. Tendler had dazed Leonard with a punch to the jaw. The champ's legs were weak. He had to hold on for a few seconds to let his brain clear. Had Tendler shaken him off and driven home a stiff punch the crown might have changed hands.

Leonard kept his head, however, though it was a bit befogged. He produced a confident grin and began to joke Tendler about the lucky punch. Tendler was too surprised at Leonard's chatter to follow up his advantage.

The pair had fought a 12-round no-decision affair in 1922.

Tendler lost a tough fight to Rocky Kansas in 1921, the Rocky one getting the decision in 15 rounds. They had clashed before, in 1919.

Tendler's fights with Joe Welling, Ever Hammer, Cal Delaney, Willie Jackson, Pinkie and Ritchie Mitchell, Sailor Freedman, Johnny Dundee, Pal Moran and others were noteworthy battles because of the action in them.

However, Tendler's day is done, as far as getting into the big shots is concerned. But he is wise enough to know that his fame as a two-fisted fighter will bring him some return against such bearcats as Hudkins and Baker.

Stoney McLinn, Philadelphia scribe, tells an interesting yarn about George Godfrey, the giant negro heavyweight who has attracted much attention of late on the Pacific coast. Godfrey, it seems, lacks mainly the desire to get in and finish his man. The night in question he was battling one Neil Clisby. Godfrey toyed with his opponent for six rounds and made the fight look bad. Before the start of the seventh Godfrey's manager, Jim Daugherty, told Godfrey that he was going to be licked and that Daugherty didn't care to stay and see the horrible affair. Daugherty turned to leave the hall as the seventh round began. Before he reached the door he heard the crowd cheering and looked around. Godfrey had smacked Mr. Clisby for a row of airplane hangars.

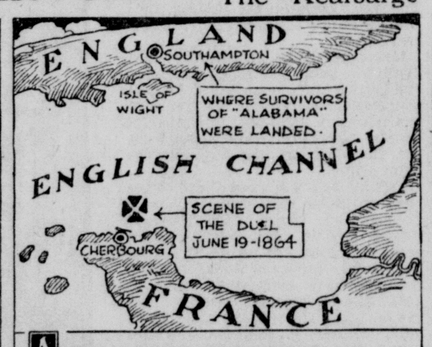
HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

The "Kearsarge" and "Alabama". by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

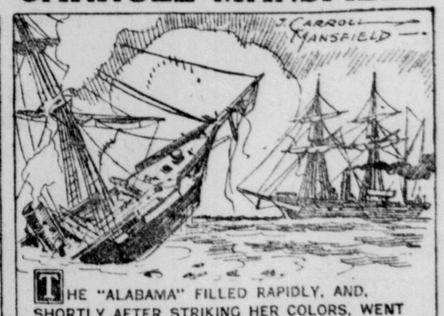
IN JUNE, 1864, THE FAMOUS CONFEDERATE CRUISER "ALABAMA" AFTER A LONG CAREER OF DESTROYING UNION MERCHANTMEN, LAY IN THE NEUTRAL HARBOR OF CHERBOURG, FRANCE WAITING TO GO INTO DRYDOCK. OUTSIDE THE BREAKWATER, THE U. S. SCREW-SLOOP "KEARSARGE" CAPT. WINSLOW, WAITED, WITH HER DECKS CLEARED FOR ACTION, FOR THE RAIDER TO COME OUT



ADMIRAL SEMMES, COMMANDER OF THE "ALABAMA", WAS EAGER TO PROVE THAT HIS VESSEL WAS NOT ONLY A COMMERCE DESTROYER BUT A SHIP OF WAR, AND SENT WORD TO WINSLOW, THROUGH THE U. S. CONSUL AT CHERBOURG, THAT HE WAS WILLING TO FIGHT AND WOULD COME OUT TO MEET HIM AS SOON AS HE HAD TAKEN ON COAL.

THE SIDE OF THE "KEARSARGE" —SHOWING HER CHAIN-ARMOR

ON SUNDAY, JUNE 19TH, THE "ALABAMA" STEAMED OUT OF THE HARBOR, AND A SPECTACULAR DUEL TOOK PLACE SEVEN MILES OFF THE FRENCH COAST. THE TWO SHIPS WERE OF ABOUT THE SAME SIZE AND ARMAMENT, BUT THE AMMUNITION OF THE "ALABAMA" WAS DEFECTIVE, AND THE GUNS OF THE "KEARSARGE" BETTER AIMED. AFTER FIGHTING AN HOUR, THE SOUTHERN VESSEL WAS IN A SINKING CONDITION, AND ALL BUT TWO OF HER GUNS SILENCED.



THE "ALABAMA" FILLED RAPIDLY, AND, SHORTLY AFTER STRIKING HER COLORS, WENT TO THE BOTTOM. ADMIRAL SEMMES, WITH ABOUT 40 OF HIS MEN, WAS RESCUED FROM THE WATER BY THE ENGLISH YACHT "DEERHOUND" THESE SURVIVORS WERE TAKEN TO SOUTHAMPTON, WHERE THEY FOUND REFUGE UNDER THE BRITISH FLAG. SEVENTY MORE WERE PICKED UP BY THE "KEARSARGE" AND A FRENCH PILOT BOAT.

TOMORROW—CUSHING SINKS THE "ALBEMARLE."

Report Wagner's Condition Serious

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Aug. 18.—Old hard luck is already on the trail of the Blue and White football hopes in the form of an announcement from Akron that Joe Wagner, one of last year's stars, is seriously ill in the Akron city hospital. Just before being operated on for appendicitis Monday, Joe's appendix broke and he is now in a very serious condition. According to the latest word Joe will not be able to handle a football this season and it is doubtful if he will be able to enter school the first semester.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Industrial stocks were ready to resume their forward movement at the beginning of trading today. Stocks of the motor and steel companies, the mercantile companies and a few of the specialties promptly passed into a higher level of prices, with active buying of stocks of companies which are expected to increase or resume cash dividend payments.

Bethlehem Steel and Hudson Motors retained their places as the leading ground gainers in the latter group, Bethlehem rising to above 63 for the first time on the move in anticipation of a resumption of the cash dividend later in the year.

The oils displayed a strong tone, though most of the current buying is reported to be for the covering of the short lines put out by the "oil men" themselves earlier in the year. United States Steel sold at the high point for the current move, and at 137 the stock was up more than six points from the selling prices recorded at the time of the announcement of Judge Gary's death.

Commissioner Davis Questions Statement Made In City Council

In a statement made today, County Commissioner Francis M. Davis takes issue with the sentiments expressed on Tuesday morning by Mayor William H. Dunlap and members of the council concerning the attitude of the commissioners concerning bridges for New Castle.

"The commissioners do not lack back bone as has been suggested by the mayor," said Mr. Davis. "We want to relieve the traffic congestion in New Castle but can the mayor or any member of the city council tell us just what is wanted? Apparently the city council cannot agree with the civic clubs who they have asked to help them, council itself cannot agree where a bridge should go, and certainly we cannot be expected to build bridges wherever anybody asks them."

"Several sites have been projected," said Mr. Davis and each site has its boosters. If a bridge is built at one site, the backers of the other sites will charge favoritism or inefficiency. The reason a traffic expert was suggested to come in and survey the city was to get away from any local bias or prejudice. Almost everybody in any city has an alignment of interests that would tend to give preference to one site over another. An outsider would have no local interests at stake and could give an honest, unbiased opinion."

"As for the commissioners wanting to go along with the city council, we are ready at any time to go along with the project that seems to be the right one, but certainly city council should make up its mind what it wants before charging us with lack of back bone."

WELSH HAVE BIG REUNION

New Castle Sends Delegation To Gathering At Idora Park.

Annual reunion of Welsh people held Wednesday at Idora park, Youngstown, O., was one of the most largely attended and successful held in years. Rev. Joseph Lloyd was chairman and the Hon. J. R. Wooley the president of the day. The Masonic chorus choir of Youngstown rendered a number of selections in a brilliant manner under the direction of Herbert Davis, one of the leading choral directors of the state of Ohio.

It was announced at the reunion that Mrs. Sue Harvard Armstrong of New York, often known as the Welsh Nightingale, would sing Sunday evening at the Emmanuel Baptist church in this city and many people of Youngstown and vicinity are planning to come here and hear her.

Among those attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. John Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Badger, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Johns and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evans, George Anthony, Mrs. R. T. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ayres, Mrs. George Marshall, Mrs. David Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. John Bevan and children, David Lewis, Mrs. Watkin Hughes and Mrs. Mary Morgan as well as a number of others.

Welsh congregational singing was one of the big features of the occasion and was especially enjoyed by those attending from this city.

Ellwood Woman Is Arrested Wednesday

Mary Topay of Ellwood City, was arrested about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by County Detective William Fleming and his assistants, when it was found on visiting her home that she had a quantity of liquor in her possession.

She was brought to the office of Alderman William E. Marshall and charged with violation of the liquor laws. In default of $1,500 bail, she was removed to the county jail to await a hearing on Friday.

According to the arresting officers she proved quite vicious when the attempt was first made to arrest her. She attempted to cut the arresting officers with a knife, threw water on them and did everything possible to try and prevent them from taking her into custody. She was finally conquered and brought to this city.

Girl Slayer Pleads Self Defense, Held For Killing Of Man

"Did Not Want To Return To Life Of Abuse And Torture" Says Girl Slayer

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 18.—Pleading self-defense, Gertrude Card, pretty 20-year-old farm girl, today was held without bail on a charge of murder after she admitted at a hearing that she shot Anthony Shaldone, 38, Binghamton, N. Y., World War veteran, to death at Lakewood, Wayne county, Tuesday night.

"I shot him in self defense. He came to take me away and I didn't want to go back to that life of abuse and torture. I had to do it," the girl sobbed at the hearing.

According to the girl's story, she and Shaldone lived together a year. He abused her, she said, and she left him to do housekeeping work for Floyd Knapp, 39, farmer, and wounded World War veteran, at Lakewood.

Tuesday night, she said, Shaldone and three others came to Lakewood to take her to Binghamton, while they held up Knapp Shaldone rushed into the house, the girl said, to seize her. He drew a revolver, according to the story, and the girl, frightened, lifted a double-barreled shot gun and fired. The shot struck Shaldone in the abdomen, inflicting a fatal wound.

Peter Paascio, 28, of Binghamton, and two others alleged to have been companions of Shaldone, are being held without bail.

TWENTY-EIGHT PLANES READY

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The Aircraft Carrier Langley, which has joined the Pacic search for the missing Dole flyers, carries 28 land planes, enabling her to make a widespread survey, it was said at the navy department today.

The Arostook also carries four planes.

In the search for the late Commander Rodgers, several years ago, the Langley covered several thousand miles of Pacific area by sending planes out two by two to scan the sea on either side of the mother ship.

DISCOVER THEFT OF DYNAMITE

(International News Service)

MEDFIELD, Mass., Aug. 18.—Troop A. of the Farmingham barracks of the state police today discovered the theft of 15 sticks of dynamite from an automobile in the garage of Joseph Bravo. Two state detectives were sent there to try and trace the dynamite, the possibility being that it was used in the home-made bomb that wrecked the home of Lewis McHardy a Sacco-Vanzetti juror.

THREE AUTOMOBILES IN ONE ACCIDENT

According to the report made to the police Wednesday there were three automobiles involved in the accident which occurred at Ray street and Butler avenue.

J. E. Plaughdin of 1175 Murray Hill, Pittsburgh, reported that he was enroute on South Ray street at Butler avenue and stopped in accordance with the stop sign.

As he started up his machine was struck on the side by that of Flora L. Fritz of Benton, Pa., but not badly damaged. The Plaughdin car in turn ran into the car of Herman Hamill which was parked on Butler avenue and his and the Hamill machines were damaged.

DIDN'T SATISFY

An old darky was sent to the hospital and one of the nurses put a thermometer in his mouth to take the temperature. Presently, when the doctor made his rounds, he said:

"Well, Mose, have you had any nourishment?"

"A lady done gimme a piece of glass to suck, boss, but I's still powerful hungry."

THREE WIVES ARE TOO MANY

Make Attempt To Unscramble Marital Difficulties Of Allentown Man.

(International News Service)

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Aug. 18.—Unscrambling the marital affairs of Samuel Barlett, of Northampton, who has a wife in this city, another in Northampton and a third in Pottsville, has proved too complicated a job for Alderman W. F. Bower here.

Alderman Bower has decided to let the county judges decide which of the three wives is entitled to Bartlett's love and support.

Bartlett married a woman in Pottsville first and they had two children. She is willing to forget Bartlett. The battle is between number 2 and 3. The former comes from this city and she also gave Bartlett two offsprings. The wife in Northampton bore him one child.

When the two women were told they would have to settle the question in court they informed the alderman they would be satisfied to go to house-keeping letting Bartlett select one of them as his wife and the other would go out and help support the house and children.

Alderman Bower decided this might be practical but not legal so he held Bartlett in default of bail to await adjustment by the court.

The women are on the best of terms and make light of their predicament.

May Use Sacks For Impounding State Ballots

Apparently the suggestion of Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand and a number of other judges in the state will receive careful consideration in the request for the impounding of ballots in the last general election.

The suggestion is that the votes be removed from the ballot boxes and placed in sacks of some kind, then sealed up and put away until they are needed. This suggestion is to be laid before the meeting of representatives of Senator-Elect William S. Vare and William B. Wilson and will probably be agreed upon.

Certainly they cannot expect the counties of the state to buy new ballot boxes, in order to settle an argument between them. The sensible thing to do is put the votes in a sack or container of some kind and thus enable them to use the ballot boxes on September 20.

Barbers? Dear, No!

A barber's scissors should never be permitted to snip the locks of a girl's head, thinks Charles W. Godefroy, above, president of the National Hairdressers' Association convening in Cleveland, O., Aug. 27-Sept. 2. He is directing the association's efforts to prevent barbers from getting legislation placing them on equality with hairdressers, to whom he believes the business is entitled.

AMERICANISM: Demanding the best there is; paying a dollar down.

Yes, September will be a fine warm month, weather permitting.

Many a man who is confined in jail is down and would like also to be Little, But Oh, My!

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Some of you disciples of green corn oughtto be perking up these days. Noticed on several of the fruit and vegetable stands today piles of the succulent delicacy that just seemed to be "honin" for somebody to carry them home. Full juicy kernels that promised well.

These chilly nights are mighty fine for sleeping but they certainly have held back the home grown tomatoes. Here it's mid-August and tomatoes selling at 18 cents per pound. That means less than six pounds for a dollar. It hasn't been so many years since it took a strong man to lift a dollar's worth of tomatoes in August.

It may have been a dog the gentleman was leading on a string, but it had all the appearances of being a sheep. What the breed was is something for Doc Nugent to figure out but the animal was queer looking. Long silky hair that hung down over its eyes and apparently made seeing rather difficult. Big in size, bigger than an airdale and white hair. It wasn't a chow dog.

Perhaps we may be giving the gentleman undue credit, but there's a farmer out along the Wilmington road who is to be commended if the light was for what it looked to be. Just as you turn off to go into his place there's a nasty culvert, one that would wreck any car. But up on the cement abutment he had a lantern which brought the danger out in relief against the ditch. Nobody but a drunken driver could have mistaken what was there, and if it was done for safety sake, then the gentleman is entitled to three cheers.

Learn one new thing each day. One of the motoring fraternity who just got back from Canada tells me that over on the other side they sell gasoline by the Imperial gallon, such a gallon containing five quarts. That's one thing they missed in the arithmetic books in Thaddeus Stevens.

It does seem as though the lawyers are divided into two classes these days. Those Who Have and Those Who Haven't, meaning those who've been on their vacation and those who haven't started. Ran into some of each group yesterday afternoon. W. Walter Braham regaled some of us over a cup of coffee of his trip (with the missus) up through New York State and Massachusetts. A little later Charley Matthews showed up after a vacation trip to Cape Cod or some other fishy resort. Homer C. Drake took his out in motoring over the Roosevelt Trail, and probably tomorrow I'll run into a lot more.

Wonder if Alf Swift might not be a wee bit southeast on that story of his about business offices preferring other than blondes. In the Shenango Pottery Office the other afternoon and the girls were all blondes but one, and that young lady wasn't exactly a brunette either. It maybe that Charley Read is a gentleman.

Ho hum. There's another day's work. Now to start on tomorrow's.

AGED VETERAN IS STRICKEN AT PARK REUNION

A. C. Weller, 81, of Harmony, was stricken with heat prostration at about 3:30 yesterday afternoon at Cascade park while he was listening to the address to the Civil War veterans given by James Chambers.

Artificial respiration was administered and his clothes loosened. Soon he was able to be about without the assistance of a physician.

During the Civil war Mr. Weller served with Company I.

Mr. and Mrs. Weller will be married 61 years on September 11.

Quarantine On Dogs And Cats At Hawaii

If the Hawaiian fliers took any dog or cat mascots along with them they would likely be held in 120 days quarantine while the heroes went on to the honors awaiting them according to notice received by Dr. T. E. Munce, Director, Pennsylvania Bureau of Animal Industry, which notice stated that all dogs and cats would be held in 120 day quarantine unless they came from territory officially free from rabies.

Thus very drastic steps are taken to prevent the introduction of rabies to the islands. All dogs and cats accompanying tourists are quarantined while the visitors are in the territory.

The first municipal bath established in America was opened in Boston in 1866.
